PAVING PLANS FOR GLENDALE AVENUE ARE POSTPONED

Proposal to Electrify Union Pacific Line Halts Work On Street Improving

Proceedings in regard to the paving of Glendale avenue have been abandoned temporarily by the East Glendale Improvement association. This decision was reached unanimously at the weekly luncheon of this organization yesterday noon at the White Inn.

The motion was introduced by Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale Avenue branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, who called attention to the progress of negotiations in regard to the electrification of the Union Pacific line on Glendale avenue.

"There is a very good chance to get an electric line to run down as far as Verdugo road," asserted Mr. Nelson. "It is going to take considerable money and it has gotten to be a fashion to ask some help financially from people interested. Whether they are going to ask us very much we don't know. I believe we would be interested to help them to some extent."

Big Help to Avenue
"I don't know of anything which would help all the people more and be a greater improvement to Glendale avenue. It wouldn't be in competition with the Pacific Electric for the reason that the line would not be going the same place."

Mr. Nelson remarked that presenting the petitions for the paving of Glendale avenue to the city council would only antagonize those opposed to the suggestion and could do no good because the council would not proceed further until the property owners decided the kind of paving they desired.

After brief discussion, the sum of $3 a year was fixed as the annual dues of the association and Dr. Henry Harrower was elected treasurer.

"There is a point which we should consider early in our career," said Dr. Harrower. "That concerns the extension of the ornamental electric lights to the end of Broadway. I should like to submit to you the proposition that we should take the matter up and secure the co-operation of those property owners who (Continued on Page 11)

35 Cents Monthly Meter Charge for Electric Service

Electric lights in Glendale celebrated last night. They flickered and fluttered, went on and off, because—

The city council last night passed an ordinance establishing a charge of 35 cents a month on every electric light meter in Glendale.

The charge is made, the council explains, in lieu of the proposed business license ordinance, and for the purpose of raising about $2000 monthly to help clear up the municipal deficit.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin made the motion that resulted in the passage of the ordinance. The vote was unanimous and when the lights heard about it they staged the celebration.

Fourteen Acres of Land Is Purchased By City for $20,000

Fourteen acres of land adjoining the present pumping plant of the city at Grand View avenue and San Fernando Road were purchased for $20,000 last night from the realty firm of Hamlin & Hepburn, 203 West Broadway, by the city council.

Peter Diederich, superintendent of municipal light and water works, stated this morning that no improvements were contemplated immediately, but that it would only be a question of time until it would be necessary to drill additional wells to supply the city with water.

He also suggested the possibility of using the new property as a site for a water treating plant to remove objectionable mineral ingredients.

According to Mr. Diederich, the property will be useful for the storage of pipe and supplies for the water department. He indicated that the city would have a spur track installed in the near future from the Southern Pacific which passes nearby.

Mr. Diederich considers the purchase of the land at this time a particularly good investment. He called attention to the fact that, if the city were to wait until the acquisition of a site for additional wells should be absolutely imperative, the price would be several times higher.

KIWANIS CLUB OF GLENDALE MEETS AT LUNCHEON

Judge Kenneth Newell Here From Pasadena to Preside at First Gathering

The Kiwanis club of Glendale, which has been in the process of formation for the past two weeks, is holding its first regular luncheon meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium this afternoon.

The program for this meeting will be in charge of Judge Kenneth Newell of the Pasadena club.

"There will be about twenty-five members of the Pasadena Kiwanis club present at this gathering and they will put on a typical Kiwanis meeting featuring some good singing under the direction of an able song leader," announced Lyman P. Clark, temporary president of the local club this morning.

The temporary organization is composed of Lyman P. Clark, president; F. W. McClellan, secretary; D. H. Smith, treasurer, and directors, Don Webb, Henry Kuhn, Dr. Thomas C. Young, Herman Nelson, M. B. Towman and Fred Deal.

Four Key Men
"The organization of the Kiwanis club is always formed with four key men who surround themselves with others and the temporary organization then in turn, surround themselves with fifty members which constitutes the charter membership. Our charter membership is about complete," Mr. Clark explained.

This board works out the personnel of the club. Two members from each of the classifications are chosen and the board must agree unanimously upon a new member before he is accepted," he added. "The purpose of the Kiwanis club is good fellowship and breaking the 'crust' between men in business."

"The Kiwanis club is an international organization with clubs in 750 cities with a membership of more than 64,000 people, a corporation without profit and its purposes are altruistic," he concluded. The club will hold a luncheon and regular meeting once each week.

Miss Annie Flower and E. Lamoreaux Wed

Miss Annie May Flower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flower of Santa Monica, formerly of Glendale, and Ernest David Lamoreaux of 209 West Windsor road, were married at 8 o'clock last night, Thursday, April 20, 1922, at the home of the bride, Rev. Father Murphy of Santa Monica officiating. The single ring ceremony was used.

Miss Hazel Flower, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown of black silk and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. John Richardson of Glendale was the best man. The bride was crowned in dark blue and carried a bouquet of white roses. The party entered to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin." The house was decorated with orange blossoms, bridal wreath and greenery.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony, during which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. During the reception the young couple left on their honeymoon trip.

In order to make their "get-away," Mr. and Mrs. Lamoreaux changed clothes with the bridesmaid and best man, so that later they who had followed the machine in which were riding Miss Hazel Flower and John Richardson found that the bride and bridegroom had evaded them. Mr. and Mrs. Lamoreaux stopped over night in Los Angeles and will go by auto to San Diego on their honeymoon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lamoreaux are well known in Glendale, especially among the young people. Mr. Lamoreaux is a graduate of Glendale Union High school, and later took a course at business college. He is employed with the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage company.

Among those present at the wedding were Miss Lucy Strother, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Flower, Miss Agnes Carroll, Miss Martha Myers, and other relatives and intimate friends.

The regular meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. C. A. Bowls is the chairman, at the school yesterday was attended by a large number of members. The first twenty minutes was taken up by the kindergarten children, who presented a program of dancing games, and singing "The Soldier Boy Chorus."

"Good Afternoon" and "Good-Bye Ladies," Mrs. Hahn spoke of the Near East Relief. A plea for the members to vote for the high school bonds was made by Mrs. G. U. Moyse.

The remainder of the program consisted of a piano solo by Miss Evelyn Bowls.

At the business session a nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mesdames Kane, Barnes, Martinez, Wilber and Griffin. Delegates were also elected for the state convention in Los Angeles next week. Mesdames Kane, Jepson, Griffin, Van Arsdol, Martinez and C. A. Bowls. It is said that the permanent improvement proceedings will take six months to carry out. In the meantime, the council intends to make temporary repairs, it was announced.

MAYOR REMOVES EVERINGTON AS CHIEF OF POLICE

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—Col. James W. Everington was summarily removed as chief of police by Mayor George E. Cryer today as rank insubordination and lack of respect to superior officers. The mayor dismissed Everington without the customary action of calling for his resignation. He simply addressed a three line note to the chief, telling him that he was removed from office, effective immediately. Everington received notification of his dismissal with a smile. "Good-bye," he said, as he arranged his desk at the chief's office, took his hat and prepared to leave. Captain R. Lee Heath was placed in charge as acting chief pending the appointment of a new head of the department by the mayor. The appointment of a new chief was expected to be announced before night as Mayor Cryer was said to have decided upon a selection.

CALAMITY HOWLER GIVEN SCORING BY L. J. HADDOCK

C. of C. Forum Meeting Heard Constructive Talks, Civics Committee Reports

"The Fighting Sons of Peace" might well be the title of the talk made before the Glendale Chamber of Commerce forum meeting last night by Len J. Haddock, who made a notable record for himself in Utah, but has come to California to better his fortunes. He roundly scored the calamity howler and sent his hearers home with something to think about.

V. M. Hollister, president of the Chamber, acted as chairman and after two beautiful harp solos by Mrs. Enona Hopkins, who also accompanied the community singing of America, he introduced Charles P. Bayer. This secretary of the service department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, brought tidings from Frank Wiggins and the metropolitan organization. He outlined the work of the several departments and told two good Scotch stories.

Hoot Men! Look Here!

"Oh, Lord, we know that many times we have taken a drink and been drunk, but if you will only see us safe to land—" Then he was interrupted by the other one who said, "D'na promise too much, Sandy. I think I see land." And as for the shortest story about a Scotchman, Mr. Bayer said it was the Scotchman and Irishman who went to get a drink and the Irishman was broke.

"I do not think there is a man or woman here who can realize what Southern California will be twenty-five years from today. If you dared make a prediction on a sufficiently gigantic scale they would have you in Patton." In the next few years you will be surprised at what will happen. Why, the growth of Glendale already has surprised the whole United States. Your city means a lot to Los Angeles and Southern California and that is the reason we are interested in you."

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Bayer paid his respects to James M. Rhoades, the secretary of the local chamber, and told of the foreign trade being built by Los Angeles, the agricultural work and the numerous inquiries being received from home-seekers at the Los Angeles Chamber—something like 2,000 a month—and the flow of immigration has only started.

Ambitions to Learn

Mr. Haddock followed the same line of thought, speaking extemporaneously. He said in part: "I came out to meet you. I am ambitious to learn the manner of the men and women who make this community. Now I want to tell you that I like good roads, straight roads and 'Dusty' Rhoades. It is a wonderful assistance to a city to have a man who dedicates himself to community service. He must be inspired by patriotic motives."

"I am glad to come into the midst of a city that is the fastest growing in America. Yet this city we know as Glendale is not Glendale. Nor is Los Angeles simply Los Angeles. This geography we see is not California. California and its cities are the men and women who have come from the ends of the earth to build the (Continued on Page 18.)

Roy Gardner, Bandit Picture at T. D. & L.

Motion pictures bordering on the sensational and dramatic are the pictures of Roy Gardner, the much-discussed highwayman, now showing at the T. D. & L. theatre, in addition to the feature picture, "Her Mad Bargain," starring Anita Stewart. The pictures of Roy Gardner show intimate views of the highwayman, occurrences and happenings that followed directly after the robbery, his sensational escape and final recapture, which terminated in his lodgment in the penitentiary. As an unusual and unique series of pictures these Roy Gardner pictures are exceptional.

Louis B. Mayer assembled an excellent cast to support Anita Stewart in "Her Mad Bargain," the star's new vehicle for First National. Heading the list as leading man is Walter McGrail, who played a similar role with Miss Stewart in her last two pictures, "Playthings of Destiny" and "The Invisible Fear."

OUR HOME TREATMENT PLAN

You will like the home treatment. When given on the portable folding suitcase table it is so different from a treatment given sitting up or given on a spring couch, the dining table or other improvised structure. Hundreds have expressed their preference for this method in our seventeen years' experience with it, because it not only saves the trip to the office in all kinds of weather but saves the various changes of costume. Women can usually take their treatment in the loose comfortable clothes worn about the house in the morning. Just here we wish to say a word concerning preparation for treatment. Patients are not unduly exposed. There is nothing about the treatment that need shock the most fastidious. A loose wrapper or treatment kimono is always worn over the underwear if it be necessary to remove any part of the upper clothing. The clothing below the waist line is never removed and we do NOT treat next to the skin. All reports to the contrary are circulated by mistaken friends or designing enemies. If unable to come to the office, phone us day or night.

J. P. Lampert Gets Antelope Valley Tract Near to Oil Activity

John P. Lampert, former chief of police of Glendale, who is now engaged in the realty business, invaded Antelope Valley accompanied by several of his friends yesterday and reports today that he was successful in his efforts to secure a tract of promising land east of the state highway which is not only likely to prove oil bearing property, but which is certain to be valuable for raising peaches and alfalfa.

An entire section of land was purchased by the various members of the party which included O. W. Tarr, the former Chevrolet agent in Glendale, E. D. Cotton and Mr. Grogan of Los Angeles. While the land was not in one entire piece, according to Mr. Lampert it was all in the eastern part of the valley where drilling operations are being carried on by several oil companies.

Antelope Valley which is approximately a three hours' drive from Glendale is being rapidly improved, according to Mr. Lampert, who states that the valley's present source of wealth lies in peaches, pears, alfalfa, grapes and cattle. Artesian wells have been responsible for much of this development, he believes, as the fertile valley was practically undiscovered prior to 1910, when the apparently inexhaustible water supply was opened up.

Concerning oil which was the chief reason for the excursion, Mr. Lampert states that four rigs are up and drilling has commenced.

BUSY TIME AHEAD FOR ROTARIANS OF THIS CITY

Boys' Work Campaign and Postal Improvements Will Be Undertaken Here

Two weeks in one! Pretty good, eh? Well, that's what the Rotarians are planning for May 1 to 6.

In that brief period they are going to conduct a campaign in boys' work and co-operate with the postoffice here in postal improvement week.

Both efforts are works of service for which the club stands.

At yesterday's luncheon, Secretary J. Herbert Smith read a communication from Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, while Vice President R. L. Kent invited the Rotarians to attend the big pow-wow to be held April 28 and 29 at the Pasadena camp.

George Bear and A. B. Warner of Pasadena were visiting members; C. C. Neale and Cliff Neale were absent. Rene Olin and Art Dibbern were appointed on the luncheon committee, and V. M. Hollister and William A. Tanner are the "on to Los Angeles international convention" committee.

ADD ANOTHER HOLDUP

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 21.—The "black and white" bandits who have committed two bold holdups within the last three days added another to their list today. Two negroes and a white man entered a chain grocery store and robbed Frank Whyte, proprietor, of $2000, which he had been collecting. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Tagging All Bases

It was the ninth inning. The Detroit Tigers were all set to win their maiden victory of the American league race before a sympathetic home crowd. The callous-souled Indians climbed aboard Howard Ehmke, drove in two runs and won the ball game, 5 to 4. Ty Cobb says he is going to fight it out along these lines if it takes all summer.

The Cincinnati Reds are fast becoming the official doormat of the National League. Yesterday they ran afoul of Alex, the Great, in the Chicago opening and the Cubs won their fifth game of the season. Pete Donahue held the Cubs to three hits but it didn't mean anything.

The two Urbans—Shocker and Faber—again locked horns and this time the home team went to the Chicago red head. A muffed pop fly in the first inning by Elberbe gave the Sox two runs and the ball game.

Operating behind the commendable pitching of Philbert Douglas, the Giants completely ruined Squire Ebbett's opening in Brooklyn by beating Dodgers to a pulp, 8 to 1.

Sherry Smith was the only home flinger to stop the Giants. Vance and Mamman being easy.

BASEBALL GAME TODAY

Coach Howard Butterfield's Glendale high school baseball team will meet the Alhambra High squad this afternoon on the local field in a regularly scheduled Central league contest. It will be the first competition for the Red and Black pill chasers within two weeks and they are out to win and bring their standing up to the 500 mark. To date they have won one game and lost twice. Angeson and Morgan will form the Glendale battery.

Tom Mix Last Times at Glendale Tonight

Any person who hasn't seen Tom Mix in "Sky-High" at the Glendale Theatre has just one more chance to avoid robbing himself of a grand treat. Tonight's showing will be the last of this picture's run here.

The stunts performed by the star in this William Fox production are nothing short of marvelous. One in particular—that of Mix riding through the Grand Canyon of Arizona in an airplane—is in a class by itself.

A new comedy and other changes make the program most alluring. The crowds so far show that Mix is a steady attraction at the Glendale Theatre. Tomorrow vaudeville will hold the boards. Attend the matinee and avoid the evening crush.

CHINESE LEADERS BATTLE

PEKIN, April 21.—Railway communication between Peking and Shanghai has been cut and it is reliably reported here today that armed conflict between the rival war lords—Chang Tso-Lin and Wu Pei Fu—for the control of Northern China is under way.

Despite reports that fighting is under way at Machang, south of Tien Tsin, mediators are still busy in an effort to bring about an agreement which will permit peaceful settlement of China's internal differences.

Peasants are flocking citywards seeking safety from the fighting they fear is imminent. All freight traffic in Northern China has been stopped for a week by troop movements.

VESSELS CRASH; KILL MAN

RICHMOND, Va., April 21.—One man was killed and a number of persons were injured early today when the steamer Brewster of the Euxton line, collided with the steamer Lake Sterling of the Richmond-New York line, and sank in the James river about 50 miles from here. Chas. Hufsey of Elizabeth City, N. C., chief engineer of the Brewster, was killed.

Fortunatos Team Is Forced to Bowl Six More Games to Conclude Schedule

STANDING OF THE CLUBS
Team	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Grenfells	17	10	.629
Fortunatos	14	10	.582
Wards	15	12	.555
Gilhuleys	14	16	.462
Apffels	13	17	.430
Clarks	11	19	.363

More entanglements in deciding the winner of the Class A division of the Glendale Elks' scratch bowling league were encountered last night when the Grenfells, who are leading the league, failed to appear for their match with the Fortunatos. As a result the latter team was forced into a "bye," making it necessary for them to play six more games before the schedule will be completed. The feature match between the Grenfells and the Fortunatos will probably be arranged next week.

The Bert Ward squad, by winning three straight from the lowly Clarks, strengthened their hold on third place and are now but two games behind the leaders. Should they happen to win three straight from the Fortunatos in their postponed match which is scheduled to be played next Tuesday night, they will be in a good position to finish the season in a tie for first honors.

Display Improvement Although the Clarks failed to win a single game last night they exhibited a considerable improvement over their former play, keeping their opponents in hot water at all times. After being topped by the Wards by thirty pins in the opener they came back in the second contest with the remarkable score of 523, only to be beaten by the Wards' 546. In the final game the two teams finished the tenth inning in a deadlock, with 483 pins each. Then, after each bowler had rolled one extra inning it was found that the Wards had won the playoff by the narrow margin of one pin.

Although their match had no particular bearing on the final result of the league standings, the Gilhuleys and the Apffels, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively, staged a merry little battle all of their own. The Apffels winning two out of three. The winners bowled without the services of Card, a straight score of 160 being allowed for each game.

For the first time since the beginning of the season an entire night's schedule of games was completed without a single 200 contest being rolled. Art Timmons, "sandwich man" of the Wards, came nearest the coveted two-century mark in his second game when he made a total of 194. Other high individual scores for the various teams were as follows: Gilhuleys, Chambers 190; Apffels, Apffel 179; Clarks, Clark 189.

Flood Conditions on Mississippi Are Worse

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—Flood conditions along the Mississippi river here, particularly on the Arkansas side, are becoming increasingly serious and indications are that the river will reach the highest point in history. The crest is not expected to be reached for three days.

For thirty miles along the river south of Helena, Ark., hundreds of men, including convicts from the state prison, are at work strengthening the levees. A special train of freight cars is en route from Schenectady, N. Y., with sandbags for the lower Mississippi valley. Three million of these bags are for Greenville, a city of 20,000, one hundred miles south of here. Government engineers agree that if the levee at Greenville breaks, loss of life would be heavy.

The most apprehension is felt for the towns in the Yazoo delta district which is almost entirely below the water level. Special precautions are being taken to protect the levees in this section.

At Ferriday, Jonesville and a number of other towns in Louisiana, across the river from Natchez, all women and children are being moved to the hills on the Mississippi side. Caravans of cattle, horses and household goods also are being ferried across.

SEEK MYSTERIOUS DEVICE

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—Search was made today by prohibition agents for a device said to be in use here among bootleggers for instantaneously producing the effect of old age in moonshine liquor. The inquiry was started on order of Prohibition Chief Dan O'Leary, who has been informed that such a device, operated by electricity, is in vogue here and has been proven a success.

Much Oil Is Left In Old Wells, Is Belief

By W. K. NOLAN
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON—Great quantities of oil, perhaps as much as 60 or 80 per cent of the original reservoirs, are left underground in the United States when wells are abandoned because no means have been determined whereby it is possible to recover more than a small percentage of the oil, according to A. W. Ambrose, chief petroleum technologist of the bureau of mines. This failure to effect a greater recovery of the underground oil, said Ambrose, is due to the exhaustion of the subterranean gas flow.
"The manner in which gas serves as an explosive medium was recently shown by an experiment at the petroleum experiment station of the bureau of mines," Ambrose asserted. "A steel container about three feet long and three inches in diameter was filled with sand which was then thoroughly saturated with oil. The amount of oil introduced was known by weight and measurement. After the sand had been saturated, gas was forced into the container under a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. Then a valve at one end was opened and the gas allowed to escape, bringing with it perhaps 18 per cent of the oil put into the container.
"In other experiments," Ambrose continued, "the amount of oil recovered varied from 15 to 25 per cent, depending on the pressure and other conditions. After the gas had forced out 18 per cent of the oil, the container was held in a vertical position for the purpose of determining how much oil would drain out, but the capillary force exerted on the oil was so great that only a negligible quantity of oil drained from the sand.
"This simple experiment emphasized the fact that gas is the predominant factor in moving oil to the well and that when the gas is gone the production is gone," declared Ambrose. "In any event, it is unquestionable that large quantities of oil are left underground, and, whether the figure is 60 per cent or 80 per cent, it is too large. In certain parts of the Appalachian fields the practice of forcing compressed air or gas into a central well from where it goes to adjoining wells and carries the oil with it, has caused wells to produce as much oil as they had up to the point when considered ready for abandonment.
"There are undoubtedly other means of effecting a greater recovery," Ambrose concluded, "and these questions should be studied and applied before the wells are abandoned."

Empty Title Given Balfour Not Liked

LONDON—When Arthur J. Balfour dropped "Mr." and accepted "Sir" there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth in London. He has long stood out as "above titles." All London loves Sir Arthur, who is England's Grand Old Man, and they did not begrudge him the signal honor paid him by the king, but they were grieved that he had stepped out of the ranks of the great commoners.
The British public are not awed by titles any longer, and they have great pride in their leaders, whom they feel are above titles.
For many years Sir Arthur had refused all decorations and honors and had chosen to fill his place in public life as a commoner. This attitude won him respect from the great masses of the people, and regrets are expressed everywhere that the man who has represented Britain at a half dozen world conferences has entered into the ranks of the titled personages.
Sir Arthur had no desire to accept knighthood and to be made a Knight of the Garter, it is understood, but he was placed in a circumstance where he could not refuse. King George, it is understood, desired to indicate his pleasure with the manner in which Sir Arthur had represented Britain at Washington. The King is understood to have requested that Balfour accept the title as an indication of his gratitude.

BOY ADMITS GOLD THEFTS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The mystery of the disappearance of gold amalgam from the plant of the Marysville Dredging company, which operates on the Sacramento river, ten miles from Marysville, was solved here today, police said, through the arrest of Theodore Ragan, 19-year-old employee of the dredging company, as he was attempting to dispose of $900 worth of amalgam. He is said to have admitted the theft. The total may run into thousands of dollars.

FLIES TO HIS FIANCEE

PARIS, April 21.—Allister McCormick met his fiancée, Mary Langdon Baker, here Thursday. He flew over from London, had a rendezvous of a few hours with the Chicago girl who has twice left him "waiting at the altar," and took the air route back to London.
Rumors that Miss Baker had sent him scurrying back to England were denied by her intimate friends. McCormick realizes that Miss Baker is frail and needs absolute rest for several weeks following her ocean voyage, they said.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Radio Features Appreciated
Added Printing Equipment
Bryan Starts Pot Boiling
Hurrah for the Backwoods

—By Gil A. Cowan—

ALREADY the radio fans of Glendale know and appreciate the efforts to give them the very latest about the craze. As usual, they look to this paper for authoritative information and to supply such George Van Sands, who has been interested in wireless work since 1907—fifteen years—has been conducting a column daily and answering the questions of the community.

In addition to this the New York Herald-Sun radio features, including a daily news picture, "Radio Explained," by E. H. Lewis, instructor of the New York Y. M. C. A. school; and "New Apparatus and Devices," by Ralph Brown, radio engineer for the Cutting and Washington Radio Corporation, are published each day. Augmenting this superior service you also will find the regular news on wireless which is carried by the International News Service leased wire, the U. S. Press Association special dispatches, and more news pictures furnished by International and Copic services.

Those are the reasons why many people have commented on the fact that The Glendale Evening News has the best radio page coming to their attention.

There are other things for which The Glendale Evening News can justly pride itself.

Illustrations of local events are works of art. In the first place, excellent photographs are obtained from the local studios. Further than that, the Aristo and Premier Engraving companies of Los Angeles, which do the work, are far superior to the average. A comparison with the art to be found in other newspapers will prove this point.

The commercial job and book printing department of The Glendale Evening News now has the equipment and personnel to turn out the finest kind of work. More than $1000 in new type faces have been added to the already large assortment and a fifth linotype machine in The Glendale Evening News plant facilitates the quick composition of large jobs. It might be well to mention, also, that this office now is the only one in Glendale equipped with a cylinder press used in magazine and book printing.

William Jennings Bryan recently published an attack on the Darwinian theory. That started something. The manager of the International Sunday School convention, to be held in Kansas City, canceled the invitation to the commoner to speak.

The St. Louis Presbytery by a large majority voted to "boycott" the convention, it is reported.

Now, who is going to win? we wonder.

Hurrah! The "backwoods" of America (if there be such) came to the defense of President Harding when representatives of fifty interior commercial organizations appeared before a joint congressional committee to indorse the ship subsidy bill, the news reports state.

Yes, they vied with each other in recommending the Harding-Lasker proposal, contending that the industry in the interior of the country would be "boomed" by a great merchant marine under provisions of the subsidy plan.

Trust to Al Lasker when it comes to molding popular opinion. He's an advertising man.

"It is not well for man to be alone. He gets a polish from contact with his fellows. The recluse doesn't contribute much to the world."

There's a thought expressed by Len J. Haddock at the Chamber of Commerce forum meeting last night. It is a big idea. It is worthy of meditation.

Contact is offered in many ways in Glendale. There is the Chamber of Commerce. Any one of two score of social, fraternal or religious organizations. Numerous civic associations.

There is no necessity in being a "joiner." But are you doing your part in any one body for the betterment of mankind? Are you a potent factor in community or business life?

If not, why?

Instead of a Clean Up Day, Glendale is going to take a whole week for the job and do it good! And the city council last night assured the Chamber of Commerce civic committee that it was going to patch the rough spots in Brand boulevard.

"That's doing something," said V. M. Hollister, president of the latter organization, "to get cleaned up and patched up in a week."

General Health Much Better, Is Reported

A big improvement in health conditions is noticeable, according to P. J. Wells of 630 Salem street, who is a member of the municipal health department.

"Last year at this time we had about 207 cases of measles," he remarked. "This year there are hardly any."

The report received yesterday from Dr. J. L. Pomeroy of the county health office shows that very few cases of disease were reported last week in the entire county. The number includes five cases of chickenpox, four cases of diphtheria, four cases of influenza, two cases of measles, twelve cases of pneumonia, ten cases of scarlet fever, five cases of tuberculosis, and four cases of whooping cough.

Bake-Rite Bakery to Hold Formal Opening

The Bake-Rite bakery is holding its formal opening at 518 East Broadway tomorrow.

Joe O'Connor, who sold his shop to this organization, has been retained as manager, and in the last sixty days the place has been beautifully refitted and equipped with the latest sanitary baking devices, following the same scheme of other Bake-Rite stores.

The "Bake-Rite" idea is a "native son" of California, so to speak. It originated some two and a half years ago at Oakland. With an ability matching their imagination, the men responsible for that first store widened their field of operations. "Bake-Rite" stores do business in nearly every city the country over.

The Bake-Rite Bakers are an outgrowth of the original idea. Following the success of the initial "Bake-Rite" system, the Bake-Rite Bakers was incorporated in August, 1919, to establish "Bake-Rite" stores, build "Bake-Rite" ovens, and use the well-known "Bake-Rite" trade name, special formulae and service throughout Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico.

The Bake-Rite Bakers began active operations in February, 1920, in Los Angeles. With the organization well under way, the company plans to establish one new store each month—increasing this number in the future to meet the demand in various localities for bakers' products of the highest quality, and where the customer-consumer may share the profits made possible by his or her purchases, and those of their neighbors, according to Mr. O'Connor.

Mrs. Elias Michael and Mrs. Edwin H. Steedman are the first St. Louis women to be elected to the directorate of a national bank.

Says City's Tractor Is Good Investment

The city's tractor has proved to be a most economical investment, according to City Manager W. H. Reeves. Yesterday he called attention to the fact that the machine, which cost $1750, had paid for itself already by eliminating a certain number of horses which were costing the city about $450 a month to maintain. This tractor is capable of hauling four wagons loaded with sand or gravel and has been used extensively this winter to haul away the debris washed into the streets with the rain.

Women Smokers Told They May Ruin Eyes

BOSTON—Women are warned not to smoke under peril of ruining their eyesight by Dr. F. A. Wam, of Columbia University School of Optometry, who spoke before the convention of optometrists here. "No individual who has as highly developed an organism as the female of the species should indulge in a narcotic as powerful as tobacco," said Dr. Wall.

OFFERS TO SERVE TERM

NEW YORK—Joseph Denoff of 2383 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn, was unable to appear in the traffic court for violating a motor ordinance, so his sister appeared for him.

When she asked Magistrate Steers if she might take her brother's place, he asked:

"Will you go to jail for your brother?"

"I certainly will, provided some one will care for my baby," was the reply.

The magistrate imposed a fine of $1, which was paid.

New-Rich Plumber Will Continue to Work

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Jim Younger, cowboy, prize fighter, soldier and plumber's apprentice, of this city, is going to continue at the plumbing trade, despite the fact that he has just sold some land near the Mexico, Texas, oil field for $50,000.

Younger was orphaned in infancy when his parents were killed by bandits near La Junta, in Central Mexico.

For years after reaching boyhood he earned a precarious living on the open range in Texas and became an expert rider. After serving throughout the World war he returned to Texas.

At a land sale conducted by the state Younger bid in a section of 640 acres at $3.15 per acre, the state giving him forty years to pay the $2,061.

An oil company offered him $50,000 for 200 acres of his land, and the plumber's helper accepted. The entire $50,000 goes into government bonds just as soon as he can turn it over to a bank, he says.

Younger is unmarried and has no matrimonial aspirations, he says.

GETS THRILLS FOR PAPA

CHICAGO—W. Gurach bragged before his family that he never had been arrested. Today he stood before a Chicago judge, charged with disorderly conduct.

Officers said they arrested him after his 11-year-old daughter told them "Father is beating mother."

"It's all a joke," the little girl told the judge. "I didn't want papa to miss any thrills so I called the police." Gurach was discharged.

Thomas Jefferson and John Quincy Adams were elected to the Presidency by the house of representatives, neither having had a majority of electoral votes.

LINEBERGER WRITES OF LEGISLATION NOW PENDING

Several Important Bills Are Passed Or Up for Hearing,
Congressman States

Walter F. Lineberger, congressman from the Ninth District, which includes Glendale, sends the following communication of general interest to A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News:

My Dear Mr. Cowan—During the past few weeks several very important measures have been passed by the House, one being the Langley Bill, so-called, providing for additional hospitals and medical, surgical and hospital services and supplies for Veterans of our late wars. If this bill is finally passed by the Senate and signed by the President (and everyone expects it will be) it will make available for immediate use the sum of $17,000,000 in providing for the needs of the ex-service men as above outlined.

It has been suggested by some of us who are interested that a portion of this be used to establish a Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Southern California, and the Director of the Veterans' Bureau has agreed to this. Believing that the Ninth District has many locations which are particularly adapted to this purpose I feel that we should unite upon a site of mutual selection, and all work for the same end. The Director is authorized by the bill to accept a gift of land for this purpose, to use Government land, or to acquire by purchase, and has stated that a gently-rolling site, of not less than 100 acres, would be desired. I will be glad to do everything I can to secure this for the District and feel sure that if such a site is offered gratuitously we will be able to have him accept, although I understand several other localities are also considering the proposition.

Another bill, and one very far-reaching in its results, is the "Rivers and Harbors" appropriation bill. This provides for the carrying out of a program of development of our harbors, including those of the Pacific coast, which are vitally necessary if we are to build up the Merchant Marine and expand our commerce beyond our own shores. Southern California will benefit particularly by this appropriation because of the assistance we will have in the development of the Long Beach-Los Angeles harbor project, and I hope the measure will be passed by the Senate very soon. Our commercial importance will be greatly enhanced in the development of this project and we will also have a far better outlet for our industries.

Increase Is Secured

You probably noticed that by an amendment in the House we secured an increase in the amount granted from $27,000,000 to $42,000,000, and this is one of the first tangible results of the Limitation of Armaments Conference, because it makes available this additional amount for the pursuits of peace, from a portion of the funds which would otherwise have gone into preparations for war. I think we can all view this with no small degree of satisfaction and gratitude.

The final ratification of all treaties inaugurated at the Limitation of Armament Conference may well be considered as the crowning achievement of the first year's work of President Harding's administration. Of course there are matters coming up from time to time which affect our harbor and the food control situation in Southern California; I am watching them closely and co-operating to the fullest extent with those organizations and individuals who are charged with formulating the propositions to be presented to the Departments and the Committees of Congress.

The Adjusted Compensation, or so-called Bonus bill, passed the House, as you no doubt know, by an overwhelming majority. While it is not the bill which I, personally, would have reported out had I had the matter in charge, yet many other members of the House might say the same thing had the bill which I preferred been brought out. All legislation is the outcome of compromise, and this important act is no exception to the rule. I am strongly committed to the principle of adjusted compensation, so I naturally voted for the measure. I sincerely trust that it will speedily pass the Senate, receive the President's signature, and promptly acquire the status of enacted law, so that the ex-service men of the country may receive the benefits to which they are entitled under the legislation which the majority of Congress and the country are desirous of making available for them at the earliest possible moment.

About Bursum Bill

The Bursum Bill, so-called, which has already passed the Senate, is one which is receiving much attention just at present, and which I hope to see reported favorably by the Military Affairs Committee at an early date. It will adjust the discrimination against the disabled emergency officers of the Army which crept in at the time retirement privileges were given to disabled emergency officers of the Navy and Marine Corps, and is a measure which should be passed.

An item which may be of interest to you is the fact that there are five Congressional Districts in the United States, out of a total of 43, which have, according to the 1920 census, a population of over 500,000 each, and eight which have between 400,000 and 500,000. Of these thirteen, four are located in Chicago, two in Detroit, two in Los Angeles county, and one each in Asheville, N. C., Akron, Ohio, Lansing, Mich., Philadelphia, Pa., and St. Louis, Mo.

Our own district was tenth in size at that time, and since then I feel

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger to Be Candidate for Re-election, Is Wire Received by Chairman of Ninth District

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger will be a candidate for re-election, according to a telegram received by Galen H. Welch, republican chairman of the ninth congressional district. While many of his friends had urged Mr. Lineberger to make a declaration of his intentions, until this time he had held back, awaiting, he said, further expressions from constituents as to whether they wished him to remain their representative at the national capital.

Satisfied that such was the wish of a very large number of residents of the ninth district, when he had received many telegrams and letters urging him to stand again as a candidate and had been endorsed by the ninth district committee, Mr. Lineberger wired to Mr. Welch that he felt called upon to make his announcement at this time.

"My future political activities are subject to the will of my constituents," he wired, "and if they desire I shall again make the race. If elected I shall continue in the future as in the past to give hearty support and co-operation to the furtherance of all moral issues for which my constituents stand, and to give unflinching loyalty to the republican party as exemplified by President Harding and his administration."

No opponent to Mr. Lineberger has yet appeared.

sure that with the many people who have been moving in from other states, it has gone somewhat higher on the list.

State Entitled to More

California is really entitled to a greater representation in the House, but because of the fact that a reapportionment bill, based upon the same number as at present, would decrease the representation of some of the Eastern and Middle Western states, it has not been possible for us to secure the desired action. There was also strong opposition to a plan thereby retaining the representation for states which would lose under the first plan, but increasing the number of representatives from several other states to a very material degree. I regret that no action has been taken and will not be possible now, although several members of our delegation have worked hard for it, since we feel that California, on account of its phenomenal increase in population in the last decade, is clearly entitled to and should have greater representation in the House than it has at present.

Naturally since my European trip I have been following Continental affairs even more closely than before, and the coming Genoa Conference will, no doubt, prove a very interesting one from the standpoint of a close observer of European affairs. Lloyd George's recent pronouncement in Parliament and the overwhelming vote of confidence which he received there insure his leadership at this meeting when it takes place.

While the British Parliament has yielded to Lloyd George's eloquence, and approves the Genoa Conference, the skepticism in the French Chamber of Deputies is plainly exhibited. M. Poincare, Premier of France, seems to feel that the Genoa Conference will not bring about the desired results, and he has expressed his doubts to the Chamber. However, he reassured the Chamber that so long as France's rights were respected it would co-operate in the Conference. It is reasonable to presume that he means French rights as construed by France, which will include the right to maintain a great army in peace time, and operate to hold Germany down to the point where her industries will have great difficulty in reviving on a world scale.

Back to Productiveness

At the same time France, who continues to view her devastated provinces and to remember the experiences of two invasions within a generation, demands from Germany such payments as can be made only by a productive and prosperous nation. French statesmen, no doubt, recognize French susceptibilities, and it is to be hoped that the Genoa Conference will leave the Franco-German situation where it found it. To me it was quite apparent that the foundation of European reconstruction is the Franco-German situation, that is to say, a question of reparations and a collateral reduction of land armaments. In a nutshell, I cannot see how France can get down to a normal basis until she has turned her 800,000 soldiers back into productive work, and she will not do this while she continues to fear Germany.

Germany, on the other hand, cannot pay her obligations while prevented by France from restoring her industries and so it is that while the Genoa Conference may discuss tariffs, exchange, currency, paper money and other subjects, it will not change economic conditions so long as France maintains her present policy, or so long as Germany's attitude continues to give just cause for apprehension.

Speaking from the American viewpoint, I would say that what the United States would like to see is a reduction of armaments in Europe, and I include moral as well as physical limitation, so that the peoples may again employ themselves in production and commerce. If this were done, I have no doubt that this country would willingly co-operate in economic plans for world reconstruction.

While we are an intensely practical nation, yet we are still one of the most altruistic, and we are generally agreed among ourselves that the riches and power of the United States are not for America alone, but for humanity and human liberty. Naturally, we desire to direct the disposition of these elements, and the manner of their employment, and to see that American intelligence and commerce are not eliminated from any scheme of world reconstruction in which our resources are to be employed.

Cause for Surprise

The administration, reflecting, as I believe it does, American intelligence, rejects the idea of a European politico-financial confab at Genoa to bring about the exploitation of Russia for their exclusive benefit, while some of the nations involved are still incurring the expenses of vast armies eating the substance of Europe and preventing by that much the production of food.

We are somewhat surprised, if not offended, at the lack of appreciation of American friendship, which is prevalent in Europe and exemplified by devoting money to war purposes which should be used in paying off debts and stimulating production and commerce. No doubt America will continue to be stubbornly opposed to assisting Europe until Europe desists from her present policy of remaining armed to the teeth. The spectacle of large armies such as the French of 800,000, the Polish army of 400,000, and the Jugo Slav army of 140,000 is contrasted by the American with an army of less than 150,000 men and an ever-shrinking navy.

The effort of the United States under President Harding to cut down expenses and reduce taxation is contrasted with the swollen war budgets of several European nations which are under heavy financial obligations to our government and its citizens. If Europe is capable of gauging the American psychology she can but realize that she must balance her budgets and reduce her armies in fact as well as in theory, if she is to expect sympathy or help from America.

Coming back to the Genoa Conference, the statesmen on the allied side are to meet and match wits for the first time with the strange, keen, unscrupulous minds of Moscow. The traditions and civilizations of the allied nations bind them to honor their words and respect civilized customs. Those who shall face them on the other side of the Conference table will represent a new and ruthless political system. They are bound by nothing, and owe no allegiance to a moral code.

It will be interesting to watch the contest.

Very sincerely yours,
WALTER F. LINEBERGER.

DECEIT IS TERMED CHIEF CAUSE OF DIVORCE EVIL

Judge, Long Experienced in Wedded Life Woes, Says
Honesty Best Cure

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE
Written for International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — Deceit, fibbing, just plain lying—or whatever name one cares to give prevarication—is the chief cause for the ever-increasing number of divorces today.

At least such is the reason assigned for the severing of marital relations by Judge Thomas F. Graham, for more than twenty years on the superior court bench here and who, despite his more than state-wide reputation as the "great reconciler," has granted thousands of divorces.

And, as a proper remedy for the present-day divorce evil, Judge Graham suggests honesty between husband and wife regarding every matter of mutual interest to them.

"Back of the majority of divorces suits filed here—and it must be true of other cities—is deceit by either the husband or wife," said the jurist. "I have run across scores of variations of fibs, lies, white lies, half truths and vicious deceptions. Wives, as well as husbands, are guilty of deceit, but in most cases where a marriage is of short duration it will be found that the young husband is the one chiefly to blame."

"Auto Not Paid For"
"Often he makes the mistake of starting matrimony without making his bride his full confidante. He earns, say $150 a month. During the courtship he tells her his income is more than that. The automobile he courts her in is not paid for. There are monthly payments that must be met, but the girl knows nothing of them."

"He hints vaguely at a bank account. They are married, and the deceit continues. The young bride, perhaps from a home where there has been little need of economy, unknowingly spends more than her husband earns. Bills begin to arrive. Still the husband does not confess the real limit of his salary, but vainly tries to bluff it out, hoping against hope for a 'change of luck' or a half-expected raise in salary which never comes."

"Quarrels over money and unpaid bills begin to mar the home life of the young couple. The outlook is dreary to the young wife, who fears every ring of the doorbell is that of a bill-collector. The husband begins to worry and is short-tempered and cross. Things go wrong at the office, and he takes it out in short, spiteful words at home."

"Friends Are Amazed"
"Divorce proceedings are filed, and friends are amazed. They seemed such a happy couple," all say. "But back of it all is the deceit practiced by the husband during the courtship and maintained through the short married life."

"There are cases also where the wife is guilty of deception. She buys clothes beyond her husband's means, charges them and deceives her husband about their cost. When she makes the purchases she expects to pay for them, but how she is going to get the money is another question. She trusts to luck, and usually the husband gets the bills, and there is a scene, tears and bitter words—then divorce."

"Intemperance, of course, is a major factor in divorce cases, but investigation shows that intemperance is the result, not the cause, of married unhappiness," said Judge Graham.

And here the judge, who has sent many couples reunited from his courtroom, pointed out the remedy that might curb the evil.

"Couples Who Kiss"
"Husband and wife who trust each other, who harbor no secrets from each other, who kiss at parting and kiss at the evening reunion never get into the divorce courts."

"The woman who loses at bridge and tries to hide her losses from her husband is making the gravest mistake."

"The husband who keeps his 'business affairs' to himself and deceives his wife when things go wrong is courting marital disaster."

"All women like to be trusted, and few of them betray genuine, full-hearted confidence."

"Deceit is the microbe of divorce. It is the start of all troubles that lead to the divorce courts."

"My advice to young couples just starting out on the uncertain voyage of matrimony is to be square with each other at all times. Then the ship will weather every storm," he said.

IRISH BATTLE ALL NIGHT

DUBLIN, April 21.—A vigorous night long battle which raged in the streets of Dublin created great excitement among the populace. Soon after midnight mutinous troops of the Irish republican army attacked practically every free state post in the city. The free staters returned the fire, using machine guns, and charged the mutineers with fixed bayonets. There were only two known free state casualties. The number of casualties among the mutineers is unknown.

SHOOTS WIFE AND SELF

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 21.—When Howard Hollifield, 40, and Alta Hollifield, his 28-year-old estranged wife, went by arrangement from their attorneys to their apartment to divide the furniture and Mrs. Hollifield refused his pleas for a reconciliation, Hollifield shot the woman and then shot himself. Both were reported dying at a hospital.

Citizenship Is Denied by Russians to Many

LONDON.—The soviet government is taking drastic action with regard to Russians abroad who are deemed to have incurred the loss of their rights of citizenship.

By a decree published in Moscow, five classes of persons are declared to have lost their rights. These include Russians who have lived abroad for five years without applying for passports before June 1, 1922, and those who left Russia after November 7, 1917, without the permission of the soviet government.

Those who voluntarily served in soviet government, or who participated in any form whatever in counter-revolutionary organization are placed under a similar ban. It also includes those who by June 1 have either not exercised the right of declaring for Russian citizenship and those who have not registered at the soviet legations.

Woman Makes Money By Selling Noodles

BUENOS AIRES, April 21.—Mrs. Charles Kraut, a local resident, didn't wait for someone to offer her a position. She went out and organized one of her own.

Mrs. Kraut daily makes about 20 pounds of fresh home-made noodles, neatly packs them, using the label "Grandmother's Noodles," and places them with several local grocers, where they find a ready sale.

GALE DAMAGES SANDUSKY

SANDUSKY, O., April 21.—The total damage done by a fifty-five mile gale in Sandusky and vicinity between 10 o'clock last night and 4 o'clock this morning will run high into the thousands. Electric light, telephone and trolley wires were down.

Many trees were blown down in the country sections and fruit blossoms were hard hit by the cold wave. Much fishing tackle in Sandusky bay and Lake Erie was ruined by the tremendous waves.

CHINESE IN CIVIL WAR

LONDON, April 21.—Civil war in China has begun, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express today. Severe fighting is in progress north of Peking. Foreigners in Peking are not in danger, the dispatch says.

Vladivostok Becomes Great Japanese Port

WASHINGTON — Vladivostok is rapidly becoming a principal Japanese shipping point, according to trade reports received by the Department of Commerce.

The importance of Vladivostok for Japanese shipping is indicated by the fact that two-thirds of the total traffic through that Siberian seaport during 1921 was carried in Japanese bottoms. For 1922 it is estimated that the quantity of cereals alone that will be sent from Manchuria to Japan through Vladivostok will amount to about 242,000 long tons, according to Trade Commissioner Mayer at Vladivostok.

For the purpose of purchasing and exporting Manchurian products to Japan by this more advantageous route a new Japanese transport company known as "Vladivo-Unio," representing a union of Japanese import, export and shipping companies, including the great shipping firms of Mitsubatake, Suzuki, Mori, Mitsui and Shosen Kaisha, has established headquarters in Harbin and a branch in Vladivostok.

The commercial line of the Russian Volunteer Fleet, which has been idle for some months, is to resume the run from Vladivostok to Japan. An additional number of Japanese steamers will probably be pressed into service, it is said. The steamship line, Count Kaizerling, is also renewing its activities.

You are tired of the "long daily drag" between the house and your "downtown" office.

For months you have passed, on Glendale Boulevard, only 3 miles from Broadway, picturesque Ivanhoe Hills, held in acreage as a part of the Griffith panorama of the Sierra Madres. Possibly you have even pictured the joy of a "before-breakfast" walk along the quiet waters of Silver Lake.

All these things are possible now.

Large, well restricted homesites may be purchased on Ivanhoe Hills.
Water is in. Buildings may start at once. Gas and electricity are within a day's work from the tract. We pay for all improvements. Courteous sales-

LOCAL LEGION WILL CAMPAIGN TO AID BOND PROJECT

Every Effort Will Be Made to Pass Issue of Benefit to Former Service Men

Following immediately upon the receipt of news that the supreme court of the state had cleared the legal obstructions from the path of the veterans' bond issue that will appear on the ballot in November, Campaign Director Buron R. Fitts of Los Angeles was in communication with Joe Wilson, adjutant of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, stating that a spirited campaign will be waged in every part of the state, in which the American Legion and other veterans' organizations will participate.

"This is a lift, not a gift," Mr. Fitts said. "This bond issue is not to provide a bonus. It is a straight loan to the man or woman who served in the world war or in past wars. It enables the veteran to borrow money from the state at a nominal rate of interest and over a long period of deferred payments, with which he will buy a farm or a home. The ten million dollar bond issue upon which the people will vote is to be a revolving fund that comes back to the state as fast as the ex-service men make their payments. The state is at all times secured in the loan by the real estate. The taxpayers will not pay out or lose one penny. In return the state will receive an impetus in home building and in the creation of new farm property that will greatly increase the taxable income of California, besides providing an opportunity for the veteran to own a home and raise a family in peace and plenty.

Committee in Charge.
The bond campaign is to be conducted by a committee of which Mr. Fitts is chairman, the others being the state commander of the American Legion, John R. Quin of Delano, Walter K. Tuller, Los Angeles, H. V. Lay of Yreka and John U. Calkins of Oakland.

The committee yesterday issued the following statement:
Under the provisions of the California Veterans' Welfare act, the Veterans' Welfare board is created, consisting of five members, four of whom must be ex-service people. The function of this board is to carry out the terms and provisions of the veterans' legislation in California, and expend moneys authorized by the state legislature to be expended in behalf of ex-service people within this state. These expenditures are safeguarded by requiring the approval of the state board of control on controller's warrants drawn for that purpose.

Any veteran of any American war, a bona fide resident of California at the time he entered service, is eligible under the terms and provisions of the veterans' welfare acts. Preference is given, however, to veterans who are disabled and are now drawing compensation.

The two principal features of this veteran legislation and which are to be covered by the ten million dollar bond issue, are the home aid and the land aid provisions.

How It Is Done.
Under the terms of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase act, any qualified veteran desiring to secure a home or farm, may make his selection and submit the same to the Veterans' Welfare board for consideration. The banker in the community where the site is chosen, an inheritance tax appraiser, and at least two members of the Veterans' Welfare board shall constitute a board of appraisal and who will appraise the property. If the farm does not exceed $7500 in value, or the home does not exceed $5000 in value as the case may be, the Veterans' Welfare board may then purchase the farm or home in behalf of the state for the appraised valuation.

It will then resell the farm or home to the veteran applicant at a price not to exceed the actual cost to the state (cannot exceed $7500 in case of a farm and $5000 in case of a home), and adding to this resale price the expenses of appraisal, escrow charges, cost of certificate of title, and all other necessary incidental expenses. The resale by the state to the veteran is made on terms agreed to between the Veterans' Welfare board and the veteran. It is provided, however, in the act, that the applicant veteran must make an initial payment to the state of at least 5 per cent in the case of a home, and 10 per cent in the case of a farm, the balance due to be paid by the veteran in easy installments covering a period of not to exceed forty years and bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent on deferred payments. It is further provided that the veteran must take up his actual residence upon the property within six months after purchase by the board.

Authorized to Purchase.
Under the Veterans' Land Settlement act passed by the state legislature, the veterans' welfare board is also authorized to purchase tracts of land for subdivision into farms, farm laborers' allotments, townsites, providing for irrigation, roads, schools and churches for settlement purposes. Under the terms of this act the resale to the veteran must be made at actual cost to the state, not exceeding $15,000 in case of a farm and $1000 in the case of a farm laborer's allotment; also it is likewise provided by this act that preference must be given to federal agricultural trainees, who are required, as is likewise required of all other applicants, to move on the farm or allotment within six months. The state may further cultivate the land, render it productive and erect cottages thereon for the veterans until the land is self-supporting, the cost to be added to the purchase price of the land and paid by the veteran.

It is further provided under the provisions of this act that the Veterans' Welfare board may loan a sum not to exceed $3000 to the veteran applicant for the purpose of purchasing livestock and farm equipment, and take a mortgage or other security therefor.

It is for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of these two beneficial veteran welfare acts that the state legislature has unanimously authorized the California veterans' ten million dollar bond issue act. These bonds are to mature not later than forty-five years from the date of issuance, and will bear interest at a rate to be determined by the Veterans' Welfare finance committee, but in no case exceeding 6 per cent per annum. It is further provided in the act authorizing the issuance of these bonds that they are to be sold in the open market.

Progressive Legislation.
Under the provisions of the acts, constituting the Veterans' Welfare legislation, the veteran is required to pay 5 per cent interest, and the Veterans' Welfare board must pay the state 4 per cent interest. It was the intention of the legislature in providing for this difference that the cost of administration of the Veterans' Welfare board would in reality be paid by the veteran himself, so as not to constitute a charge upon the taxpayers of the state.

California veterans feel that this legislation is the most progressive and constructive of any legislation within the nation. This legislation will tend to benefit the state of California to a greater extent than the individual veteran is benefited. Every provision of the legislation tends to create rather than to destroy. The voters of this great state, in passing the ten million dollar bond issue act, would help in placing ex-service men within this state in homes or upon farms.

It became necessary for several European nations, in order to stop the tide of Bolshevism oversweeping them, to provide legislation for all their citizens similar to California's legislation for ex-service men and women. It was felt by the governing bodies of those nations that a citizen in a home or on a piece of farm land is a citizen rooted to the ground, and is, therefore, less likely

Searchlights Used in Capture of Prisoners

HONOLULU, T. H.—Searchlights played an important part in the pursuit of two military prisoners who escaped recently from the guard house at Fort Ruger, on the outskirts of Honolulu, and were finally responsible for their capture.

The two prisoners fled up the slopes of Diamond Head, an extinct crater-headland, behind which Fort Ruger is situated.

A posse was quickly organized, and as it started the entire northern and western slopes of the crater were flooded with intense white light from the powerful searchlights at the fort.

to turn to Bolshevism and kindred lines of radicalism.

No Increase in Taxes.
The provisions of these acts provide for beneficial assistance and not gifts. In no single phase of any part of that legislation can added expense result to the taxpayers of the state of California. The passage of the Veterans' ten million dollar bond issue act will not in the slightest affect taxation—will not increase the present rate of taxation a cent. It is estimated by experts that the only cost to the people of this state in passing the California Veterans' Bond act is the actual cost of printing the words "For the Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921" upon the ballot to be used by the voters in November.

Ex-service men and women are confident in this state that the voters of California will provide for them the opportunity of securing a home or a piece of farm land. They are confident that the financial losses suffered by them while in the service of the nation during war, will be rehabilitated by the people of this state at the next general election in November.

The popular demand for Genuine Edmonds' "Foot Fitters" is a testimonial to their comfort and wearing qualities. They do more than any so-called Foot Doctors toward curing corns and bunions—and other foot troubles—caused by wearing improperly fitted shoes. "Foot Fitters" fit the feet without injuring them. Proposal to Electrify Union would be involved and bring it to the attention of the city council."

Dr. Harrower expressed an opinion that the installation of street lights would bring much traffic to Broadway which now traverses
Colorado street to Eagle Rock.

As chairman of the postoffice committee, Charles E. Stanley of 108 North Everett street presented for signatures the following petition which is addressed to Postmaster Ripley D. Jackson:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the eastern division of Glendale, petition for a branch postoffice to be located near the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, as the new location of the main postoffice makes it very inconvenient for many of us.
Such an arrangement would greatly facilitate our business interests and we request that this petition be forwarded to Washington so that we may know what to expect in the way of better postal service."

Present at Meeting
C. W. Ingledue of 501 West Wilson avenue, as president of the organization, presided. Besides those already mentioned, the following were present:

New Product in Use On Glendale Houses

Asbestos Stucco, a new product recently put on the market by Charles E. Clifford Co., Los Angeles, is claimed by the makers
to be the only material on the market today which is crack-proof, fire-proof, weather-proof and damp-proof.

Although the company at present
do not have an office here, their local representative, Walter Scheffele, said that an office will be opened in the Central building within a few days.

The company have been using this Asbestos Stucco on several local jobs.
A duplex house at California and Louise, one at California and Geneva, 271 West Milford and several other houses have been built with this material in Glendale, said Mr.
Scheffele.

HUMAN WOLF IS SHOT

HARRISON, Ark.—Yates Standridge,
known as the "human wolf," lately
paroled convict, who holds the record in the state for the number of times
he escaped from the penitentiary, today lies wounded here as the result of a running fight in which Harry Campbell was killed. The fight is believed to have been the result of a deal over a keg of liquor which Standridge and his nephew, Alsone Standridge, are said to have brought to Harrison, from their home in Newton county.

SUBWAY GUARD CAN'T SPIT

NEW YORK—Being employed as a subway guard doesn't give a person license to spit on subway platforms.
Magistrate Thomas F. Doyle, of Long Island City Police court, will tell the world. William Reiners has learned that from Doyle, because he did the "thought he had a right to spit in the subway," because he was employed there as a guard, Reiners paid a $10
fine. The usual fine is $2.

Would Mortgage Realty to Make Germany Pay

By FRANK E. MASON

PARIS—Compulsory mortgaging of all real property in Germany to pay the reparations is the solution proposed by Paul Reynaud, member of the chamber of deputies. Not only would M. Reynaud put a 20 per cent mortgage on houses, but he would also increase the capital stock of every German corporation
by one-fifth and present the stock certificates to the commission of reparations.

This is an adaptation of the German proposal of the German Minister Hirsch to the French point of view.
Minister Hirsch suggested the drastic program of mortgaging German property and giving the mortgages to the German state. M.
Reynaud would present the mortgages to the allies. He believes that this would represent a capitalization of 40,000,000,000 gold marks on a pre-war valuation.

M. Reynaud's proposal is an indication that the hypnotic slogan of
"The Germans will pay," which was pronounced on every occasion when any question arose regarding the French budget, is gradually being forgotten. France is beginning to realize that there are limitations
to the amounts she can collect.

"The French editors of the reparations clauses of the treaty of Versailles promised in the chamber in 1919, that Germany would pay from thirteen to eighteen billion gold marks a year. Last May, at London, this sum shrunk to three billion
for this year plus 26 per cent of Germany's exportations. At Cannes it was proposed to reduce this to 720,000,000 gold marks, plus a few hundred millions in goods to France.

Thus from eighteen billions we see the German payments approaching zero. This is the inverted pyramid of our illusions, the point of which weighs cruelly on us. However,
the pyramid of expenses is rising.
Eighty billion francs have been spent, in return for which we haven't secured one franc. This year we are spending twenty billion francs; and instead of securing from Germany seven billion to offset this,
as M. Doumer calculated, we will receive at the most 350,000,000, which is to say zero.

The Treaty of Versailles didn't specify how Germany was to pay nor how much. The mistake was to wish to make her pay on a basis of her revenue. The French public believes that Germany is prospering behind
a screen of fraudulent bankruptcy.
This is the cause of the differences of opinion between France and Europe.

"There can be payments between two countries only in goods and in services. Germany exports less than she imports. Her exportations were ten billion gold marks before the war. This figure has fallen to three thousand seven hundred million
gold marks, according to the official figures of the Interallied Guarantee Commission. Therefore, Germany can't pay us in currency based on her revenues."

Reynaud sees in his solution of participation in the profits of German industry the basis for an economic entente between Germany and France.

400,000 MEN FIND JOBS IN LEGION'S FREE BUREAUS

Drive by National Organization
Does Great Good, Reports
Adjutant Bolles

By International News

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Harding today signed the Langley bill appropriating $17,000,000 to provide additional hospital facilities for disabled veterans of the world war.

The money is to be expended under the direction of the Veterans' Bureau.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The predominance of the temporary job and the pitiful lack of permanent means of earning a livelihood are severely handicapping the American Legion
in its present campaign to provide employment for the country's 700-000 jobless veterans of the world war. Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion, declared recently in a formal statement from the organization's headquarters here.

"Probably the country never before has seen a time when the steady job was so badly needed to relieve the distressing conditions that exist
among ex-service men, four years ago proclaimed saviors of the world," Bolles said. "Despite our efforts to find continuous employment for the former soldiers there still remain at least 500,000 of them who have no jobs."

"Our estimate of the number of jobless veterans placed since the Legion's offensive in their behalf is nearly 400,000. This figure in no way, however, can be taken to mean that but 300,000 are now out of work. The temporary job has caused these figures to ascend one day and drop down to distressing depths the next."

Aim for Permanent Jobs
"Reports reaching us from all parts of the country show that many communities have no men out of work one day; the next a dozen or more are begging for jobs. We are thankful that these spare jobs have been found. It shows that the civic agencies are behind us in our work.
Our aim is to get a permanent place
of employment for every one of these veterans."

"Many of the men now idle drifted into the big cities to look for work which was not to be had. To combat this situation we are trying by every means possible to get these transients to go home. In doing this we have adopted the slogan, 'Let every community take care of its own.' If these men will go home
they will be taken care of, given work by the citizens of the cities and towns that said good-by to them in 1917 and 1918."

"Only a few sections of the United States are entirely free of veteran unemployment, our reports show.
The District of Columbia, Louisiana and South Dakota alone have gone over the top."

"Detroit, Mich., likewise has done wonderful work. Henry Ford gave preference to ex-service men when he hired large numbers in his Detroit factory. All told, we estimate Detroit has found jobs for fully 8,000
ex-soldiers."

Connecticut 100 Per Cent
Connecticut, a strictly industrial territory, has also sent us encouraging reports. Fifteen cities there, our state officials tell us, have reached 100 per cent in the campaign."

"Virginia is one of several states which cut in half the number of unemployed former service men it had when the campaign opened two weeks ago."

"Reports from Wyoming and Montana say that these two states expect to have a minimum of unemployment
by the middle of this month."
"In forming an estimate of how many men have been taken care of
to date we cannot report on New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. With their huge populations and changing conditions it is nearly impossible to check closely what has been done. In New York state more than 150,000 ex-service men were hunting work. We know that many of these have been placed, but thousands yet remain."

Dog Vivisection Bill Passed in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS.—The Board of Aldermen, by a vote of 22 to 4, have passed the much-discussed "dog vivisection
bill," which will require the City Marshal to sell all impounded
and unclaimed dogs to recognized medical schools for experimental purposes for a price of 75 cents per dog.

Mayor Kiel said that he would sign the bill and with his signature, it will become a law within thirty days.
Douglas Robert, president of the Humane Society of St. Louis, declared that his organization would file suit in the courts to attack the legality of the measure on the grounds that, under the charter, the Board of Aldermen has no right to make contracts for the sale of the dogs with private concerns.

Stole Autos Because Girl 'Admired Nerve'

SPRINGFIELD.—Because his nerve enough to do it," Robert W.

Storie, aged 17, of 67 Laurel avenue,

valued at $32,500. The seventh stolen car proved his undoing and Detectives Fleming and Meade landed him in district court. Storie pleaded guilty as charged and was returned to Shirley Industrial School.

RUTH'S RIVAL EATS WAY INTO SLUMP, SAYS WRITER

Here's Hot Yarn Handed Out on Lefty Herman, Former Glendale Ball Player

By HOWARD M'GILLIS, Sporting Editor The Evening News

"Hard Hitting Rival of Ruth Eats His Way Out of League."

This is the title of a story written several days ago in New York by Davis J. Walsh, International News Service sports writer and well known baseball authority.

The subject of this strangely appearing yarn is none other than Floyd ("Lefty") Herman, former Glendale high school diamond star, who has recently attracted the attention of the entire eastern baseball world through his phenomenal showing made at the Detroit, American league, team's training camp.

The article tells of an amusing incident which took place toward the close of last season when "Lefty" was playing with the Edmonton team in the Western Canadian league. It seems that the insatiable appetite of the budding "Babe" Ruth was so great that it "soon moved the populace to envy and the club owner to tears."

The article reads as follows: "Such was our hero's gastronomic ability that the club owner called for a new deal, requiring that the young man hit for an average of more than .300 for the season before his transportation to Glendale, California, would be advanced."

And Then It Happens

"All went well for a time. With less than five weeks to go, Herman hitting .356 in the league averages and .999 in the dining room. Then the slump. It was a hitting slump, much to "Lefty's" gratification, as he never could have borne up under the weight of a dissipating appetite."

"Within three weeks his batting average had fallen from .356 to .218 and the railroad ties between Edmonton and Glendale were many and hard."

"Unfortunately," Herman is quoted as saying, "I met with an accident at that time and was unable to finish the season."

All of which leads us to believe that "the pride of Glendale High" is about as good with the presence of mind stuff as he is with the well-known bludgeon.

Farmed Out, Report

Latest reports from "Lefty" state that he has been farmed out, under option of the Detroit management, to the Omaha team of the Western league. Another year in the minor leagues should serve to develop him into one of the best big show prospects that have advanced during the past few years. He will undoubtedly be seen in the regular Detroit lineup next year.

An indication that he has not lost any of his ability to lambast the horsehide as he did a couple of years ago on the local high school campus was shown when it was seen that he averaged .391 in the pre-season spring practice games. He played the left field in the opening game of the season and connected for two safeties in four trips to the plate, although he is at present out of the game with a strained muscle in his leg.

Yankee Uniforms Now Grace Taxicabs in Paris

PARIS.—Doughboys serving in France when they saw huge stocks of American uniforms piled up in the Quartermaster's department little thought that one day those same uniforms would adorn the inside of Parisian taxicabs. That has been their fate, however.

When the stocks were sold in France the buyer bargained as many uniforms as he could to buy Scout associations, foreign armies and automobile drivers. Even so, he had a big stock left and, despairing ever to find a new war or a new army where the uniforms might be used, he turned to taxicab companies, and they took them primarily with the object of issuing them to drivers. Instead of so doing they had them cut up and used to upholster taxicabs, and Paris now has khaki autos in her streets.

KICK GREETING TO WIFE

NEW YORK.—Joseph Conte of 236 Prospect street, Brooklyn, was sentenced by Magistrate Folwell, in Adams Street court, six months in the penitentiary. He kicked his wife in the shins when he met her in Fulton street. According to Probation Officer Rogan, he has failed to support her for several months, has stolen furniture from their home and drawn $200 from their joint bank account. He went to the bank with another woman who, he said, was his wife.

Conte, questioned by Magistrate Folwell, admitted he had paid $65 for an overcoat, $45 for his suit and $9 for shoes. He also had a gold watch.

According to the probation officer Mrs. Conte took employment and sent her children to the home of her parents. While Mrs. Conte was working in a department store, according to Rogan, Conte entered the store and made a scene and Mrs. Conte was discharged.

CUSTER'S WARRIOR DEAD

AKRON, Ohio.—Reuben L. Harris, seventy-three, one of the last survivors of Custer's army, which gained fame by fighting the Indians in the west in the '70s of the last century, is dead here. He was engaged on a surveying corps with Custer's band when the Sioux launched their attack which practically wiped out the party.

NEW YORK.—Perhaps he might do better if he changed his name to John J. Smith. He could then go of three from the Red Sox and Senators in their first two series.

Of course, the first week of the season is likely to produce any kind of deplorable flaptrap. But that ain't the point, fellows. The Athletics were thought to be worse this season than ever before. Connie Mack has made some trades this season that fur-lined his safe deposit box, but left his ball club open to a charge of indecent exposure.

The Athletics had a profitless training trip, dissensions were numerous, and bitter, and the experts were unanimous in declaring the team an awful thing. Even Mack himself feared the worst. Figure that one, if you can.

There is a proposition to bring Oxford and Cambridge to the Pennsylvania relay carnival on alternate years. Very fine business, indeed, the British are the only foreign entry that appeals to the taste of the relay crowd. Natural rivalry between America and Great Britain is one cause for this attitude and the fact that these British universities produce real runners is the other.

Young Bob could make a comfortable living in a broker's office where they appreciate good looks and excellent manners.

His two-fisted father would have ended that affair last night in a punch and everybody could have gone on about their business.

Who slipped the monkey gland in the breakfast porridge of the Philadelphia Athletics? Obviously something drastic has happened to an out-

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Another Pacific Coast league baseball star is likely to be seen with a major league team in the near future.

That "if" is a very significant factor. Willie Kamm, the third baseman of the San Francisco "Seals," is the young gentleman in question, but the "if" means the owners of the "Seals" with whom Kamm is at present under contract, want a good stiff price to part with their star.

Will Killefer, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has already tried to feel out President Strub, Charlie Graham and George Putnam, the owners, who pay Kamm his salary at the present time. Killefer while on this coast had a good opportunity to see Mr. Kamm work and there is nothing lacking in the Chicago manager's enthusiasm on the work displayed.

Kamm is a team mate and life-long friend of the famous Jimmie O'Connell, who was sold for a small fortune to New York. George Putnam and his associates honestly believe that Kamm should bring $75,000 or better from one of the big major league teams.

Killefer went so far as to ask the San Francisco magnates to name his price for Kamm. The combination of Strub, Graham and Putnam, however, do not believe in jumping at the first offer made or first request to set their price. The trio does not do business that way and before Kamm goes for sale the merits of the young man will be broadcasted far and wide and the San Francisco men will see to it that every major league team knows that Willie

Kamm is up on the auction block. Strub has been quoted as saying that when Kamm is for sale he will give every major league team a chance to bid on the third baseman. He believes that Kamm's potential value is so great that even teams with good third basemen will be interested in him.

The opinion among baseball men in San Francisco is that only five major league teams are likely to pay the price for such a brilliant young player as Kamm. They mention New York Giants, Pittsburgh's Pirates, Cincinnati's Reds, New York Yankees and possibly the Detroit Tigers.

"I think one of the New York clubs will eventually make an offer that we will accept for Kamm," said Strub. "McGraw and the two colonels are real business men. With them it is a case of buy or not buy; they do not haggle and try to get something for nothing."

If Kamm's feelings were considered in the deal he would prefer to go to McGraw, as his pal and baseball associate of years' standing, from the sandlots up, Jimmie O'Connell, will start there with McGraw next season. The combination of Kamm and O'Connell is already starting out in great shape with the San Francisco coast league team and a continuation of this partnership in the majors would naturally prove very delightful to Jimmie and Willie, but the question arises do the eastern teams want Willie and if so, if—Well, $75,000 might be considered

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE

If comparative scores had anything to do with deciding anything in athletics, it would be unnecessary for the University of California and Stanford university to play their baseball series this spring. The Californians, as far as their team record goes, is head and shoulders above anything that the Cardinals are able to show. The Blue and Gold has one of the best teams it ever has produced. All of the squad are heavy hitters, and their pitching department is way above the average. If the Stanford team should win the series it would be another baseball "miracle."

The hardest kind of luck that can attend an athlete is to make a good performance and then be robbed of its fruits through a technicality which is no fault of his own. At the recent meet between the track and field teams of the University of Southern California and Stanford university, Captain Hammer of the latter team hurled the javelin 197 feet, one inch, which created a new Pacific coast record and is within 4 1/2 inches of the American figures. A. T. officials refused to allow the record for the reason that the grip on the spear was an inch shorter than the rules specified.

Among certain followers of the fistie ring there seems to be an idea that Jack Dempsey is likely at some unexpected time, perhaps during his present European trip, to come a cropper because of carelessness. Dempsey is pretty well imbued with the idea that there is no one in the heavyweight division who is capable of taking his measure, and it may rightfully be inferred that he may have grown overconfident. This begets a lack of proper condition which may serve to give him a sudden and unlooked for trip up. Just who the fellow will be who will do the tripping, deponent saith not.

The swimming folks in Honolulu are anxious to get a look at Johnny Weismuller in action. The Illinois Athletic club aquatic marvel would certainly get a big welcome in the Islands where they know and appreciate a good swimmer. Under the circumstances it is more than likely that, sooner or later, Johnny will land in Honolulu for when those people make up their minds they want anything they generally go after it until they get it.

The action of Portland, Ore., dog owners in entering their animals in the Seattle dog show is one which might be followed to advantage in other sections of the country. There are altogether too many jealousies cropping up with the result that one section seems averse to contributing to the success of a show somewhere else. This is almost shortsighted policy and can only have the effect of hurting the shows. One good show makes for another, while a poor one means a diminished attendance at the next.

Business, Not Morals, Prompts Dress Reform

PARIS.—The horror of Deputy Isaac over what he terms the "immoral" styles of Paris designers, which he exorated in a biting speech yesterday, is, Paris coteries say, a little bit forced.

In fact, the deputy's real reason for demanding less of their personal charms is based, they declared Monday, on the fact that the good deputy comes from Lyons, the "silk city."

"Higher collars mean the use of more silk," the designers say. "That would mean the employment of more hands in the mills. Morality doesn't enter into it at all."

GERMANY REFUSES TO QUIT
LONDON, April 21.—Germany will send a reply to the allied statesmen at Genoa tonight, stating that Germany and Russia will not withdraw from the treaty of Rapallo, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Genoa.

Germany Pays Part of Telephone Poles Bill

PARIS.—If telegraph and telephone communication in France is not improved soon it will not be the fault of the Reparations Commission or for lack of timber and telegraph poles.

In a note sent to Germany at the beginning of the year the Commission requested Germany to hand over during the year 1922, as part payment for reparations, 447,700 telegraph poles, 155,000 cubic metres of round wood and 3,948,000 cubic metres of cut wood.

Germany replied that she could only supply 441,700 poles, 1,246,000 cubic metres of cut wood and 55,000 cubic metres of round wood.

Japs May Control Vote of Hawaii in 17 Years

HONOLULU, T. H.—American citizens of Japanese ancestry will within seventeen years be in position to outvote all other nationalities in Hawaii, according to Shunzo Sakamaki, a Japanese resident of Hilo.

There now are almost 20,000 Japanese children in Hawaii who by virtue of their birth on American soil are full-fledged American citizens and eligible to vote when of age. Sakamaki declared. This number he estimated to be increasing at the rate of about 5000 yearly, which would put voters of Japanese parentage in the majority within the specified seventeen years.

TO GET VOTING MACHINES

NEW YORK.—Within two years voting machines probably will be established in every Greater New York election district. This is required by the law recently enacted at Albany.

Chairman John R. Voorhis and associate members of the Board of Elections are getting ready to comply with it.

Chairman Voorhis said the board is planning to install machines in 15 per cent of the districts for use at the state election next November.

EVERYBODY HAS MILLION

PARIS.—Under the heading "Who Hasn't His Little Million?" a weekly review calls attention to the fact that from 30,000 millionaires in France before the war the number of persons rated at a million or more francs has expanded to 120,000, who own a total of 315,000,000,000 francs.

NOT AN IRISH FAERIE

BOSTON.—Irish faeries may have been at work, but a chemist would be more likely to give a different explanation. A barrel of yellow mustard that fell from a truck and scattered over a Boston street turned a bright green when a hose was turned on it to wash it away.

UNCLE SAM PRINTS BOOK ON RADIO COMMUNICATION

Public Interest Stirs Federal Government to Give Fans
Latest Information

By U. S. Press Association.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—
Public interest in the radio telephone has developed so remarkably within the past few months that Uncle Sam has published a book for the benefit of the "ether talk" enthusiasts. It was prepared by the United States Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and published by the government printing office.
Elementary electricity, dynamo-electric machinery, radio circuits, electro-magnetic waves, apparatus
for transmission and reception, electron tubes, are the titles to some of the subjects treated. There are 619 pages in all and the price is one dollar at the government printing office, Washington, D. C.
"We have been simply swamped with requests for information on the subject of radio," officials of the Department of Commerce declared today, in calling attention to the new
"air book."

Radio Communication at Sea
The United States liner America, incoming from Bremen, got into telephone communication, when about 180 miles at sea, with the experimental station in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company building in New York City. During the hours the tests were being conducted steamship men and others had opportunity to converse with Karl MacIlvain of the Radio Corporation, who was on board. The shore end talking was done over the ordinary telephone wires. G. Harold Porter, marine manager of the Radio Corporation, sat at the switchboard
in the experimental room, called up the steamship men at their offices and connected them through radio
with the America.

Mr. MacIlvain, at sea, told of an entirely new stunt on the trip.
Across 125 miles of sea the electrical engineers on the America had entertained the passengers on the steamship Lone Star by giving them
an instrumental concert by radio.

Radio Service Bulletin
Attention was called to a regular monthly Radio Service Bulletin published by the Bureau of Navigation of the Department of Commerce.
According to the radio experts of the Department, this pamphlet contains current information regarding radio development, names of newly licensed sending and broadcasting stations, their call letters, what they sent out, etc. The government printing office in Washington will send the service to anyone for a whole year upon receipt of 25 cents.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: Is it unlawful to put an aerial across a street in Glendale,
or attach it to a telephone or electric light pole?—M. C. B., Glendale.

Answer: You would have to get a permit to cross a street with a wire. The power and telephone companies do not allow any wires fastened to their poles except those of affiliated companies.

Question: Would it be a violation of my oath of secrecy to make public through your newspaper or otherwise the government weather bulletins and official press?—R. S. B., Glendale.

Answer: If the matter is sent out with the prefix "QST" to all stations, it may be published. Official press is understood to be directed to naval vessels only, and should not be published.

Question: If my station is licensed for spark work, would it be necessary to have the license altered so that I may put in a C. W. set?—G.
M. B., Glendale.

Answer: You should notify the radio inspector's office of such change. No change is needed in the license. (In explanation to others):
The reason this reader refers to license, is that he has a wireless telegraph set; this has no reference to a wireless telephone set for which no license is needed, as previously stated in this column.

Question: I live on Brand boulevard. Do you believe the trolley wires on the street would in any way interfere with a receiving set in my home?—C. F., Glendale.

Answer: Provided your aerial was higher than the trolley wire, I hardly believe there would be any interference to speak of. Of course if the car came along and its trolley was sparking considerable you might be able to detect it, but otherwise I believe you can get just as good results on Brand boulevard as you could anywhere else.

Question: What type of head phones are considered the best?—
L. C., Glendale.

Answer: There are several different makes on the market. Right at this time there is a shortage in delivery in all makes. Which is the best is not for me to say, no more than it would be for me to say which is the best automobile to buy. Beware, however, of head phones that are wound with german silver wire.
Be sure that the receiver is wound
with copper wire as it will give much better service. I believe that the navy uses the best type of head
phone, but of course they are made under government supervision. You will make no mistake in buying any of the several well known American makes of head phone.

RADIO EXPLAINED

BY E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

RESONANCE BETWEEN TWO CIRCUITS

If a wire of your piano is struck a blow by striking the proper piano
key the wire will vibrate to and fro and set up air waves which are perceived as a certain musical tone. The number of times a second that the wire vibrates is the frequency of vibration and depends only upon its length, tension and material. No matter how hard it is struck it will vibrate at the same frequency and emit the same tone. The strength of the blow only determines the loudness of the tone, or its strength. This frequency of mechanical vibration is called the "natural frequency."
If another piano wire is located near by and has the same natural frequency of vibration when individually struck the two frequencies coincide, and the two wires are "in tune" or "in resonance" with each other. If the first wire is struck the second will vibrate in sympathy
at the same frequency. If the second were not in tune it would not vibrate
at all or would, at best, only vibrate weakly. The greatest volume of sound (strength of vibration) would be had when the second string is in resonance with the first.

The piano string may be compared to an electrical circuit containing a condenser and a coil of wire—that is, a capacitance (capacity) and an inductance. If an electrical pressure is applied, even though it is only momentary, the circuit will vibrate electrically. The electromotive force causes an alternating current in the circuit which is alternating at the natural frequency of the circuit. The current dies out, of course, unless the electromotive force is again applied. But while the current is flowing in the first circuit a current will flow in a second circuit, whose natural frequency is the same. Also this current will be larger than that which would flow if this circuit were not in tune with the first. Resonance of the second circuit with the first means maximum current in the second for the same amount of force applied in the first.

If the alternating current were maintained by a continuously applied electromotive force at the proper times in the first circuit the current in the second circuit would be maintained as well. If the second circuit is not in resonance with the first circuit the current in the latter will not be as strong as it would be if the two were in resonance. It would be well, at that rate, to provide some means of tuning the second circuit
to resonance.

RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP.

AN ADJUSTABLE RADIO MAST

Wherever it is desired to erect a radio antenna or "aerial" on the top of a flat roof it is desirable to have the horizontal portion suspended as high as possible above the roof. The "height" of the antenna is really its elevation above the roof and not its elevation above the earth in this case. It is customary to suspend the horizontal portion of the single wire antenna between two supports. Wooden supports may, of course, be used, but many people find them either unsightly or unstable.

An adjustable iron pipe mast has recently been placed upon the market, which is most suitable for antenna support. It is adjustable in heights from six to twelve feet. The lower section of the mast is of one-inch iron tubing and an upper section, also of iron tubing, is one-half inch, so that it will telescope into the lower section. A set screw with a large handle provides for securely clamping the two sections together at the desired height of mast. The lower section is kept from slipping
at its base by a heavy cast iron plate upon which it rests.

Each mast comes completely equipped with seventy-five feet of
No. 14 galvanized guy wire and three inch turnbuckles for tightening each guy wire after it has been put in place.

A galvanized iron ring at the top of the upper section accommodates
the guy wires, as well as the hal-

Radio Quite Free From Handicaps

By GEORGE VAN SANDS,
Radio Editor, The Evening News

One of our subscribers to The News was in our office yesterday
and was talking to me about radio.
She told me she was just sixty-seven years young, and that when she was a young lady back in Maryland, Alexander Graham Bell was just establishing one of the first commercial telephone lines. She said people would simply not believe it, and hardly anyone could be convinced that one could actually talk between Baltimore and Washington, a distance of some fifty miles. Seems that folks were very suspicious in those days and were inclined to think it was some kind of a fake,
and while kicking about the telephone service has got to be a regular indoor sport these days, imagine for a moment where we would be if the telephone company would suddenly shut down and cease to operate.

Radio today has no such handicap to overcome as Bell had with his telephone. It was very difficult for him to raise the small necessary financial backing to establish his first line, and it was a long time before he could convince people that he was neither a faker or crazy. People today must be a little different, they sort of take such things as a matter of course, and instead of entertaining the slightest suspicion of anything wrong, everyone is trying to beat everybody else in the wild rush
to get a set in their own home first,
with the grand result that the factories are simply swamped with orders. Of course today we have modern newspapers that are quick to give publicity to an invention of this kind for the benefit of their readers, something that Bell did not have when he was first bringing his telephone before the public.

We are receiving quite a few complaints on our radio page, and be-assured these little kind personal expressions from our readers help a whole lot.

Recipe for Long Life Given by Centenarian

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—There are three rules for longevity, according to William Huskey, one hundred years old, of Smelterville. These seasons are: First, moderate habits;
second, work hard; and third, attend to your own business.

A few days ago Huskey celebrated his one hundredth birthday, sitting in his "old favorite" rocking chair
by his "fireplace" in the little farm home.

Huskey is married and his wife is eighty-four. He is the father of eighteen children. He can neither read nor write, but is quite conversant with the questions of the day.

There are no restrictions of the work hours of adults in Japan.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys
with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat
forms uric acid which almost par-alyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels
often get sore and irritated, obliging
you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating
acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful
in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia,
and has been used for generations
to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

Uncle Sam Has Most Civilian Employees

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam continues to lead all private agencies as the heaviest employer of civilian labor in America, according to the latest figures of Director of the Budget Dawes.

With 588,618 civilians drawing pay checks twice a month the government takes first rank as an employer. The number, however, shows a considerable reduction over the payroll list of last year, when 643,823 were working for Uncle Sam.

More than half of his force works in the postoffice department, which leads all other government departments in the number of civilians employed. The total, according to Dawes, now handling Uncle Sam's mail is 301,779, compared to 298,834 a year ago.

The money handlers come next, with 67,492 men and women working in the treasury department. This number shows a reduction of about 9000 over the number employed there a year ago, but Dawes does not say whether this is due to having less money to handle.

The war and navy departments run a close race for third place with the sailors winning out. There are 61,488 civilians in the navy department and 61,242 in the soldier department.

Uncle Sam also has 18,680 citizens looking after the interests of farmers under the supervision of the department of agriculture. His war veterans get the next best attention, with 18,277 civilians in the veterans' bureau. Most of the male employees in this bureau, by the way, are former soldiers.

Irrigation and reclamation projects draw the next highest number of employees, with 17,400 workers looking after these interests in the interior department. The nation's trade comes next in importance, with 11,488 employees in the commerce department, while 5,598 employees handle records and run down cases in the department of justice.

The shipping board, although facing sharp cuts in the near future, now has 5,401 civilians on its payroll, and the department of labor follows with 3,636 employees.

Affairs of state are handled by the smallest number of employees of any of the government's departments. There is a total of only 3,121 civilians assisting Secretary of State Hughes in guiding the nation's ship of state. This number, though, does not include 700 doormen and butlers engaged in service abroad.

Of the total number, 63,822 are employed in Washington, while the remainder are scattered across the face of the globe, though principally throughout the United States.

HOW TO FILL A CHURCH

WOODSFIELD, O.—A novel and effective means of augmenting church attendance was used here recently, when a movie film artist advertised that to complete a reel of local scenes felt would be filmed leaving the churches. Record-breaking congregations greeted all the local places of worship as a result.

Orient to Take Up Jazz, Says Songbird

WASHINGTON—Japan, China and other Oriental countries will sooner or later succumb to jazz, just as France, Italy and Great Britain are following in the footsteps of the United States, according to Miss Nohu Hara, famous Japanese opera singer, who recently appeared in "Madame Butterfly," with the Metropolitan Opera company, in New York.

These statements were made by Miss Hara, advice just received from Tokio state, upon her arrival at the Japanese capital, after a ten months' tour of the world.

"Jazz music may now be heard all over the United States," she declared. "Its growth, however, is recent, for it had no such vogue when I first went to America, at the time of the Panama exposition, six years ago."

In England, Miss Hara said, she found the people were not so enthusiastic about jazz as in America, but its popularity is constantly growing, though at a slower pace. Upon crossing the English Channel she heard much more jazz, the French having adopted the new music wholeheartedly.

"The Italians are almost as enthusiastic, or 'crazy,' if you prefer, about this music as the Americans," Miss Hara declared. "They, like the French, have adapted their own songs to jazz time. In my opinion they have greatly improved the American version."

While her artistic sense revolts against jazz, Miss Hara says, she is firmly convinced that it is here to stay and philosophically has determined to make the most of it.

"Of course, I cannot praise jazz music from the artistic viewpoint," she said, "but I am firmly convinced of its present and future hold on America and Europe. The Japanese people also, I believe, will become converted. Originating in the United States and spreading to England, France and Italy, I believe it likely that Japan, China and other countries will soon be conquered by this syncopated rhythm."

Women Compel Mates To Make Hats to Sell

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—Women here are not only making their husbands come to church, but are compelling them to trim hats while there. This is the latest method by which the Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul Methodist church justifies its name.

The admission fee was the assertion that the entrant had never had any experience trimming hats. Each was then allowed fifteen minutes at it. First prize was won by George H. Rackett, a clothing store clerk. Andrew J. McCulloch, an iron moulder, did the next best job. Fred W. Stacy, the pastor, competed but his standing was not announced. The hats will be disposed of at a rummage sale.

Chinese Climb Hill In Spring Religious Rite

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
Written for International News Service
SHANGHAI, China.—Shantung is the sacred province of China—we must rid this province of provinces of the robbers who are creeping into her heart.

Shu Sien-San (teacher), a typical representative of the conservative old-fashioned scholarly Chinese, sat in the diner of the Tientsin-Pukow railway speeding along from Nan-king to Tsinanfu, the capital of the Shantung Province, and led the discussion of the "Shantung Question" in which a group of travelers were engaged.

As we rushed through the desolate, snow-covered country, with its miles and miles of frozen grave-mounds, and absolutely no signs of life except an occasional flock of black crows or wild ducks flying against the gray, bleak sky Shu Sien-San talked of Tai Shan the sacred mountain of China, which is as dear to the heart of the Chinese as is Fuji to the Japanese; of Chufo, the home of Confucius and of Tsoowhsien, the birthplace of Mencius, the sage who ranks second only to Confucius.

Tai Shan is more than five thousand feet high. According to tradition, Emperor Shun sacrificed here in the twenty-third century B. C. and for centuries this mountain has held a high place in the religion and mythology of the Chinese.

Confucianists, Buddhists, Taoists revere Tai Shan, and thousands of pilgrims from all sections of China climb the mountain during the annual pilgrimage in May.

Ten thousand devout men and women have been known to make the trip in a day, traveling by foot, on their knees, or in the chairs which are carried by the coolie chair-bearers. It is fifteen miles to the summit, and the road is paved the entire length. The ascent is made with 6,300 stone steps.

The trip up is wonderful in the spring, as the road follows a mountain stream filled with cascades and waterfalls and winds on through cypress and pine groves. The picturesque temples, obelisks, shrines and monuments are hidden away among the trees. Half way up is the famous "Middle Gate of Heaven" Temple, and from this point the road grows so steep that chains are placed on each side of the road to aid the weary travelers. Among them are hundreds and hundreds of Chinese women wearing rich costumes and hobbling along on their bound feet. The view from the top embraces what is called the "Holy Land of China," where her greatest sages lived and are buried.

WILD DEER PROTECTED

COLUMBUS—A. C. Baxter, chief of the Division of Fish and Game, is calling attention to the fact that a number of deer are at large in Ohio. He also gives out the warning that it is unlawful to kill deer in this state except deer privately owned and kept in an enclosure, and that the penalty for hunting or killing a wild deer in Ohio is from $25 to $200, and all violators will be severely prosecuted.

THERE'S EASY WAY TO LEARN NAME OF PHONE CALL

This Book Will Take Away All Wonderment Concerning That Mystery Number

"Hello, I would like to speak to Mr. Jones?"
"I'm sorry," answers the voice on the other end of the phone, "but Mr. Jones is not in just now."
"Will you ask him to please call 1623?" Yes, thank you, that's right; good-bye.

"I wonder who 1623 can be," says Jones on his return.

He'd like to know who the party is before he calls the number. But how is he to find out? There's no way to do it.

But wait—there'll be a way.

How?

The Numerical Telephone Book will solve the problem.

What is a Numerical Telephone Book?

It's the business man's quick reference time-saver and a valuable and useful article in every household.

This Explains It

Here's how it works: Each telephone is listed according to its number, beginning with No. 1 and continuing in numerical order covering every telephone subscriber.

If Mr. Jones wants to know whose telephone No. 1623 is, he runs down the list of numbers until he comes to it and the name under which the telephone is listed, readily found alongside of the number.

Active work on the preparation of this Numerical Telephone Book is now under preparation at The Glendale Evening News office. Those wishing representation in the book should immediately communicate with this office and they will be referred to the experts in charge of the work.

Stoical Tartar Town Wiped Out by Famine

LONDON—The entire population of one village in the Volost Verkhne Oozlon, Tartar Republic, has been wiped out by the famine. This report, made by J. Rives Childs, of Lynchburg, Va., American Relief Administration supervisor for that district, has just been received at the London office of the A. R. A.

"The entire population has now perished of hunger," writes Childs. "Word has just been brought in that the last four Tartars have died."

Though the A. R. A. on February 1 was feeding 301,054 children in this district, Childs estimates that there are between 300,000 and 500,000 others who are not being reached by any relief agency and who must depend on a scant supply of substitutes for their lives this winter. Fourteen ounces of edible clay per day is the total supply available in some districts. Bread, of course, is absolutely unobtainable and now even common fertilizer is being used for human food.

"I think also that the calm, almost stoical manner in which the people are treading the path to death deserves to be recorded as showing a spirit unexampled by any people in recent years."

Canadian Town Now Enters Ghost Class

EDMONTON, Alta.—For the last year or more miners and other people of Forestburg, near here, claim to have seen the ghost of the late Mr. Turner, mine owner. Sometimes this apparition visited the miners while they were at work, and frequently Mrs. Eddall, the former wife of the late Mr. Turner, has encountered the ghost in and about the house, according to the stories which are current in the locality.

On one occasion, it is said, the entire gang of miners was driven away by the appearance of the ghost, but one man who lingered longest threw a pick at it, which made the ghost vanish.

On another occasion the ghost is said to have chased Mrs. Eddall round the house with an ax.

The visitations of this spirit became so annoying that the Eddall family had to move to another dwelling, and scarcely anybody will venture into the mine.

Atlantic City High School Bans Knicker

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Knickerbockers have been banned from the Atlantic City high school. Girls who appear for classes garbed in them will be sent home.

The action was taken by Principal Miller, after Miss Grace Boyajian tripped past him in a fawn colored suit, the most conspicuous part of which were the "knickers" and gold stockings.

Miller hurriedly summoned a faculty conference. Miss Boyajian was likewise called. Soon she departed and returned later wearing a skirt—a short one.

U. S. COST NEAR NORMAL

NEW YORK.—American government expenditures are getting back to normal. Vice President Calvin Coolidge declared today in an address here. "Congress has at last got its feet on solid ground," Coolidge said. "If from present expenditures there be deducted those items which arose on account of the war, present cost of government would not exceed the pre-war cost by more than two or three hundred millions."

ME-OW! PS-ST! IT IS CAT DAY HERE ON SATURDAY

Keep Dogs Off Streets, Folks, When These Tomcats Come Here for Celebration

714 East California avenue, are also "cats."
The Automobile Club of Southern California today is busy marking the road from Glendale to the Verdugo Woodlands for the benefit of visiting "Hoo-Hoos." The purring will begin as soon as the cats arrive, about 3 o'clock. Baseball teams will be organized and games will be played to work up an appetite for the barbeque which is to be prepared on the F. B. Newport company's property.
"Get the Hoo-Hoo spirit and don't let business or pleasure interfere with your attending this big out-of-door event," states the invitation. "The Glendale Valley Brothers are exerting themselves to the fullest extent."
The initiation ceremonies will be held in the evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. These will be in charge of David Woodhead, president of the Woodhead Lumber company of Los Angeles, vicegerant smark of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo. He promises that the fur will fly for the occasion and promises to crown with glory all those who bring a "kitten."
At least three "kittens" from the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company and a number of other local lumbermen are scheduled to be made into "tomcats." These may be observed Monday wearing the emblem of the order—a black cat within a circle.
An official request for a black cat to assist in the ceremonies has been issued by George Bentley, who is quite proud of his reputation as a "fence-walker" among the "cats."

First Traveling Y Secretary Guest at G. D. McDill Home

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. McDill of 1451 East Wilson avenue entertained last night for "Uncle Robert" Weidensall, the first international Y. M. C. A. secretary and the first traveling Y. M. C. A. secretary in the world, in celebration of Mr. Weidensall's eighty-sixth birthday anniversary. For a few days he has been staying at the Glendale Sanitarium for rest and recuperation. Mr. McDill has been associated with Mr. Weidensall in Y. M. C. A. work for about twenty-five years. Preceding the social evening, Mr. and Mrs. McDill entertained at dinner a few intimate friends of Mr. Weidensall, including Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fry and Mr. Bancroft. Rev. Edmonds was a Y. M. C. A. secretary for sixteen years.
"Uncle Robert," as Mr. Weidensall is affectionately called by "Y" men all over the world, has lived to see the associations of North America grow from less than 100, when he entered the work in 1868, to 2120 at the present time, with a total membership now of 950,000. Beginning his Y. M. C. A. work in the construction camps of the Union Pacific railway as it was being projected through to the Pacific coast, he has been a pioneer in the leading forms of association work. He organized the first eleven state committees and brought them to a condition of efficiency. Mr. Weidensall adapted the Y. M. C. A. plan to the needs of boys and men in various walks of life, in this way originating the Railroad and Students' departments. He is known as the "Father of County Y Work." Mr. Weidensall has also taken a large part in the development of the international work.
Dr. John R. Mott says of him: "He has spent all these years dealing with the indestructible part of young men, the so-called spiritual side."

"Uncle Robert" has just completed a nation-wide trip, during which he has met with the employed "Y" workers everywhere, emphasizing the fundamental principles of the association and rallying them to a forward-looking program. He returns shortly to his alma mater at Gettysburg, Pa., where a student Y. M. C. A. building will be dedicated in his honor.

Among the guests who gathered at the McDill home last night to extend to "Uncle Robert" their congratulations and hearty good wishes were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Johnston, E. T. Sams, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe A. Goodcell, Miss Florence Meatyard, Miss Mary B. Sieber, Miss Elizabeth K. Gardner, Miss M. Maxfield, Edgar Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Watts of Los Angeles, Rev. and Mrs. Walter E. Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Kelley, Mr. Bancroft of Glendale and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Pargellis of Eagle Rock.

Biggs of the Business and Professional Women's club of Glendale attended the call meeting in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon of the organization committee of the Vocational Alliance formed recently by the Women's Faculty club and the Business and Professional Women's clubs of Los Angeles county. Plans were presented by Miss W. Hausen, who has been secured to conduct the bureau, for an intensive campaign to take place during the month of May.

On Wednesday night the Business Women's Association of Los Angeles entertained 200 business and professional women of the County Federation at their club rooms, 176 South Bonnie Brae, for their regular monthly dinner and meeting. The Glendale Business Women's club was represented by Dr. Caroline Paine-Jackman, Mrs. E. P. Beck, Mrs. Grace Yarborough, Miss Cora Wilson, Dr. Eble and Mrs. Margaret I. Biggs.

Baptist Church Girls In Rousing Meeting

The "Pollyanna," "Amoma" and "G. G." girls of the First Baptist church united with their teachers and World Wide Guild workers at the church last night around a bountiful spread table. Rousing songs and yells were given. Mrs. Lina Carl gave some readings from James Whitcomb Riley, which were very much enjoyed. Miss Gladys Skevington of Hollywood, associational secretary of the W. W. G., gave a talk on "The Origin and Purpose and Aim of the W. W. G." Mrs. E. E. Ford gave a biography of Miss Beulah Bassett, formerly a resident of Glendale, and who is a missionary in China. The Pollyanna girls then adopted Miss Bassett as their special missionary for work and prayer.

After the program the classes separated and the Amoma girls, with their council leader, Mrs. Robert Ford, made plans for organizing a new chapter. The girls are proud to join this large organization, of which there are more than 4000 chapters in the United States. The Pollyanna girls also had a meeting, at which they initiated eleven new members.

CALL ON JAMES M. RHOADES
John Norman of the Norman Investment Company, Everett, Wash., was a caller this morning at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gerber of Missoula, Mont., also dropped in to pay their respects to the former mayor of that town, James M. Rhoades, who is now secretary of the local chapter.

INFORMATION IS SOUGHT

The LaFollette resolution was aimed particularly at the leasing of the Tea Pot Dome Naval Oil reserve in Wyoming, which has become a subject of controversy between the interior department and Senator Kendrick, Democrat of that state.

Boy Says Sweetheart Shot Him by Accident

SAN JOSE, April 21.—While life tide ebbs slowly out at the San Mateo Red Cross hospital for 17-year-old Harold Galloway, blonde curled 14-year-old Irene Granstedt with tears and heart anguish pays in sorrow for the moment of madness which induced her to borrow an automatic revolver to "bluff" her youthful lover to apologize for words uttered in a sweethearts' quarrel.

On a bed of pain, the boy calls for his little sweetheart. In his dying statement he completely absolved her from blame.

"It was purely an accident," he told the district attorney. "The gun went off when I tried to wrest it from her hand. She did not mean to shoot. Please do not blame her."

In the little detention room of the juvenile court in the basement of the courthouse here Irene spent a sleepless night. Despite the cheering words as to Harold's condition uttered by well-meaning matrons, the child—who despite her tender years stood head and shoulders above her schoolmates, in mentality and leadership—her woman's intuition seems to tell her that something is being withheld.

Her tear-reddened blue eyes wistfully question each visitor.

Prevention even in the event of the boy's death seems improbable in view of entire corroboration of her story that the shooting was an accident. She is now in the hands of the juvenile court authorities and probably will be made a ward of that institution.

Her condition has set in to add to the suffering of the boy and while his condition was reported to be "slightly better," physicians in constant attendance admit little hope is held for his recovery.

In another ward of the same hospital young Galloway's mother beams the sternness of physicians who refuse to permit her to care for the boy. She was recently a mother and while she has seen her son, she does not know the seriousness of his conditions.

Germany Makes Reply to Genoa Conference

GENOA, April 21.—Germany, in her reply today to the allied note censuring her for making a pact with the Russians, accepted expulsion from future Russian discussion only on those already settled in the treaty of Rapallo.

Premier Lloyd George had declared that the Germans must either abrogate the treaty or accept complete expulsion from all discussions pertaining to an agreement with the Russians.

"It would be quite in accordance with the wishes of the German delegation," the German reply stated. "If the conference should succeed in a general settlement of the Russian question and if the German-Russian treaty might be embodied in this general arrangement. This might well be possible."

CONGRESS AID SOUGHT
WASHINGTON, April 21.—Congress will be asked to give its immediate approval to an appropriation of $1,000,000 to aid the states of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi to prevent threatened floods through the breaking of the levees along the Mississippi river, it was decided today between Senator Randall of Louisiana and Director of the Budget Dawes. Resolution authorizing the appropriation will be introduced in both the senate and house this afternoon.

Police Constable John Evans of Harlesden, who won the two-mile amateur walking championship of England, and also the Welsh walking championship, holds $25,000 worth of prizes.

CALAMITY HOWLER GIVEN SCORING BY L. J. HADDOCK

C. of C. Forum Meeting Heard Constructive Talks, Civics
Committee Reports(Continued from Page 1) greatest commonwealth the world has ever seen. But California is no greater or better than its weakest citizen.

That was a starting point for the exhortation of the pessimist, the calamity howler, the knocker, the doubting Thomas. He considered such as the weakest citizen and he presented an array of facts that would win anyone with reason over to the booster class. Quoting from The Glendale Evening News' facts about Glendale, he showed how the population had jumped from less than 2,000 in 1910 to 13,000 in 1920—a growth of 393 per cent; and in the past year it had jumped to more than 25,000, or 100 per cent.

"Glendale has made in the way of history the most significant thing on earth," said Mr. Haddock. Read in your mediaeval history of Rome and of Carthage, and then come down tonight to Glendale and if there is not a thrill of pride, there is something about you that is not quite normal.

"Now, has this growth come by chance? Will it keep up? I hear the latter question from old timers.
They will never stop the growth of the city of Glendale as long as there is opportunity and it will continue to grow just as long as the people have faith and confidence."

Nine Inches of Snow
Mr. Haddock then took up the various industries that are making Southern California and the climate which is bringing millions here.
"Nine inches of snow in my home town of Salt Lake Easter Sunday.
There are just two things I abhor.
They are the falling of clouds upon a coffin and the clanking of shovels
on the snowy walks."

In concluding, he said, "Ten years ago the San Fernando valley was a barley field. Today there are seven model cities in the making with a breadth and a vision that is not coming by chance. This county today is the largest producer of any in the United States. One acre is worth 4½ acres elsewhere in the United States, because it is cultivated all the year round."

Announcing that both he and Alex
Nibble, subdividers of Glendale Heights, were going to build their homes here, Mr. Haddock closed with a tremendous appeal for intelligence, self-control and consciousness in the building of the city.

Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders publicly thanked the musicians, including Mr. and Mrs. Howard Can-field, who were heartily encored for three groups of songs. They are internationally known entertainers who reside here and Mrs. Cavanaugh responded with "When California Poppies Bloom." Miss Mildred Pray was the accompanist.

Miss Elsie Truran of the Near East relief made an appeal for members to sign the "insurance policy" of their organization which will help keep Armenian orphans alive. She told of the terrible atrocities of the Turk which she had seen, but added that the Ottoman respected the American flag.

The high school bonds were urged by Secretary Rhoades, who said that if Glendale is to keep the reputation both Mr. Bayer and Mr.
Haddock gave it, the city must have school accommodations.

Reports from Secretary Rhoades and Dr. Jessie Russell of the civics committee, who announced a Clean Up Week starting next Monday, closed the session, after which everybody got acquainted.

Thursday Club Holds Business Meeting

The regular meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs.
E. V. Bacon presiding over the meeting. A committee on the ways and means made their report and business in general was discussed. The members are trying to form a party of 25 to go in a body to the Mission Play. This was also taken up.

The subject of the United States Federation of Women's Clubs, which is building a main club in Washington, D. C., was taken up and it was practically decided for the local club to contribute to the fund for the building of this club.

A straw ballot was taken for the election of officers for the coming year. These ballots were placed in the hands of the nominating committee. The club decided to hold a card party next Thursday afternoon in the City Library. The committee in charge of the preparations for this party are Dr. Jessie Russell and Mrs. C. Wilbur.

Myrtle Linkogel Has Party, Ninth Birthday

Myrtle Linkogel entertained with a birthday party recently at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. V. Hogue, 229 North Jackson street, in celebration of her ninth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Hogue was assisted by Mrs. B. L. Tuck and Mrs. Linko-gel. The table was centered with a large birthday cake with white flowers and yellow candles. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the floral decorations throughout the house. The little folk amused themselves in the afternoon by playing games.

The guests included Frances Weisenheimer, Lottie Hudson, Ruth Mercer, Helen Greenwalt, Eileen
Miller, Mary Lamoreaux, Dorothy Kogler, John Berry, James Criswell, Blossom Moore and Myrtle Linkogel.

81-Year-Old Yank Seeks Bride in England

ALDRSHOT—"Yours merrily," John R. Rogers, American citizen, 81 years old, has come to England in search of a wife.

Shoals of replies have reached him
in reply to his advertisement in the newspapers setting out the qualifications of the lady whom he would like to honor. The ages of their writers vary from 19 to 90 years.

The wife of Rogers must not be too young, but she must be fair, good looking and good tempered. Above all, he says, "she must be a woman of intelligence who will be willing to share my wandering life."

This veteran's stage career extends over sixty years and he is hale and hearty still. Born in Cincinnati in 1840, he first came to London in 1870 to play at the Adelphi Theatre with J. B. Emmett. Six years later he brought Hawle and Binsley, the trapezists, to show at the Crystal Palace. They performed on a trapeze suspended from the car of a captive balloon in mid air. John R. Rogers sat in the car scattering handbills
upon the crowd.

After producing "The Emigrants"
in London he became manager for Mary Anderson and then for Minnie Palmer, the famous soubrette, and Wilson Barrett. After a world-tour he returned to London in 1900 to produce "Wapping Old Stairs" at the Vaudeville Theatre. Then came nine years in America with Eddie Fox, the comedian, and long tours with the San Carlos Opera company. Since then he has been in film work.

He has come to England, he says,
to discover the cause of the theatrical slump, and in his spare time he teaches calisthenics, swimming, riding and jumping.

"The real cause of the slump," he states, "is on account of managers
not realizing that the war is over.
If they will send their war-time performers back to show-making, and send out companies of real actors and actresses, then the slump will dry up immediately."

Rogers declares that he is good for another twenty years yet. That is why he is so careful in the selection of his English bride.

'Bulldog Courage' to Have Preview Monday

"Bulldog Courage," starring George Larkin of Glendale and Bessie Love, will be previewed at the Glendale Theatre Monday night. Edwin Kull, also a resident of this city,
was the director, so it will be quite a local event. In addition to the extra film feature, the program will include the latest Apache dance by Mr.
Larkin and his wife, Ollie Kirkby.

Of two evils it is good to choose the less, but better to choose neither.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS LEARN ALL ABOUT STUDEBAKER

Every Part of Car and Motor
In Particular Explained to Mechanical Force

Through the generosity of the Packer Auto company, the local Studebaker distributors, the members of the mechanical department of the Glendale high school were given a clear and simple demonstration of the workings of a modern six-cylinder automobile motor last night. The demonstration was under the supervision of B. Rolfe, instructor of this department, and Don Futhey, a man chosen from the Studebaker sales force, demonstrated and explained
every part of the motor and the car in general.

A light six Studebaker engine mounted on a specially built frame was used for the motor demonstration while a chassis and a touring car, also loaned to the school, were used by Mr. Futhey in his explanations of the new points of the Studebaker.

Mr. Futhey, who has been associated with the Studebaker cars since the days when E-M-F and Flanders reigned supreme over the land, says
that he has followed every change
of the Studebaker for some twelve years. He stated that he drove the famous gold-frame Studebaker over the entire west coast some years ago.

Easy to Understand
On account of Mr. Futhey's wide knowledge of the Studebaker, he was chosen for the demonstration before the high school class and he explained the workings in a language that anyone that had never seen a motor, would have understood clearly.

When the demonstration was over,
the students were requested to ask any question which might help them understand the principles of the more recent attachments which are found on this model Studebaker. One in particular which caused a lot of discussion, was the thermostat which controls the water in the radiator, not permitting it to circulate in the engine until a certain degree of heat is reached. The demonstration answered its purpose in every way and
Mr. Rolfe was very much pleased.

Boy Scouts to Hold Dedication Ceremony

Patriotic services will mark the dedication of a new flag and pole tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock by members of Glendale Boy Scout Troop No. 2 at their cabin in the Verdugo Woodlands. A short speech will be made by a representative of the local post of the American Legion and a talk will be made by Thomas M. Buley, former scout commissioner of Los Angeles. The program will be followed by a picnic supper.

The twenty-five-foot steel flag pole is a present from A. A. Barton, of 920 East Mountain street, and the flag is a gift from J. J. Berliner of Long Beach. Benjamin Robison of 497 North Louise street is scoutmaster. He is assisted by his son
J. Benjamin Robison.
